

BRITISH SUCCESSES DUE TO SUPERIOR ARTILLERY

Big Guns and Heavy Howitzers Open Way for Indian Troops. While Airmen, Dropping Bombs on Railways, Prevented Germans From Bringing Up Reinforcements.

TRENCHES CONVERTED INTO FORTRESSES

Emperor's Forces, in Large Numbers, Move Toward Flanders, in Belief That General Offensive on Part of Allies Has Begun—French Continue Fight in the Vosges and Champagne.

London, March 13.—The British successes of the past few days were due to their artillery, which apparently is superior to that of the Germans, according to a story of the "British eye witness," issued tonight.

The British guns, including heavy howitzers opened the way for an advance by the British Indian troops, which carried them to and beyond the village of Neuve Chapelle, while airmen, by dropping bombs on the railways, prevented the Germans from bringing in reinforcements. The fire of the artillery is described as the fiercest that has yet been heard in the war and confirms what heretofore has only been rumored—that the British and French have brought up, since the battle of Ypres, an enormous number of guns of all calibers.

The German trenches, on which the artillery fire was directed, were completely wrecked, so that except in one or two places which had virtually been converted into fortresses, the infantry were able to advance without much difficulty.

This success has greatly heartened the British troops who have spent the winter in the trenches and gives them hope that when the great general movement is decided upon they will be able to carry all before them.

The Germans, according to reports, are already sending large numbers of troops to Flanders, in the belief that a general offensive on the part of the allies has begun. The impression here, however, is that the British thrust was only part of the allied strategy which aims at keeping the Germans busy on both fronts, thus preventing them from concentrating at any one point.

Concurrently the French continue their offensive in Champagne and the Vosges and are strengthening the ground which they have won in recent battles.

In the east the German offensive against Przemyśl is not developing as fast as anticipated. The Russians are offering stubborn resistance to their advance along parallel roads, and, owing to the inability of the Germans to entrench in the frozen ground have, according to the Petrograd reports, thus far had the advantage in the preliminary fighting. In fact, the Germans are said to have withdrawn their front to the north of Przemyśl.

Heavy fighting is in progress in the Carpathians, despite snowstorms and deep drifts.

Heavy fog has interfered with the operations of the allied fleets against the Dardanelles, but the ships have kept up the bombardment since March 10. Two of them, the Albatros, through which reinforcements, provisions and ammunition for the fortifications in the straits must pass. They also are preventing the Turks from strengthening the forts at Bulair, through which reinforcements, provisions and ammunition for the fortifications in the straits must pass. They also are preventing the Turks from strengthening the forts at Bulair, through which reinforcements, provisions and ammunition for the fortifications in the straits must pass.

The British admiralty issued a report tonight, showing that of eighty-eight British vessels, sunk or captured by hostile action, from the commencement of the war, until March 10, twenty-two were victims of submarines. Since March 10, seven British steamers have been torpedoed, but of these three were not sunk. The number of ships lost is considered small, in view of the number of ships proceeding to and from British ports.

There have been political developments respecting the new east, excepting the declaration of the Greek minister at Paris that the change of government at Athens does not indicate any modification of Greece's foreign policy, which, he said, was inspired by the traditional sentiments of his country for the triple entente.

No Important Collisions.

Petrograd, March 13.—The following official statement was issued today:

There have been no important collisions anywhere along the front. On the left bank of the Niemen and on

SUMMARY OF WAR NEWS.

German submarines have been particularly active of late in British waters with the result that seven British steamers have been torpedoed since March 10. Two of them, at least, have gone to the bottom—the collier Inverclyde and the Indian City, the latter a new steamer of nearly 3,000 tons, laden with cotton from Galveston.

Two others, the Florizan and the Andalusian, may have been sunk, but this has not been confirmed, although their crews are reported to have been rescued. The other three are believed to have been towed to port.

Up to March 10, from the commencement of the war, eighty-eight British merchant vessels were sunk or captured, twelve of them being destroyed by mines and twenty-two by submarines. In addition, nineteen fishing vessels were blown up by mines and twenty-eight were captured by hostile craft.

All the official reports respecting the land operations indicate that comparative quiet prevails along the main battle fronts. The British have succeeded in holding the ground they recently gained in the region of Neuve Chapelle, while on the rest of the front the artillery of the allies has been little beyond artillery firing.

A British "eyewitness" in describing the operations around Neuve Chapelle, describes the bombardment by the artillery of the allies as the most terrific of the whole war. He estimates a gain of 1,200 yards along a 4,000-yard front on the first day of these operations and the number of prisoners captured as more than 750. This was the first important attack in which the British troops, who had been months in the trenches, were permitted to engage, and he declares they showed the utmost dash throughout the operations.

The Luxembourg diet has empowered the government to expropriate grain and provisions and the use of grain by distillers has been prohibited.

The Swedish steamer Hanna has been torpedoed by a submarine off the Norwegian coast, six of her crew being lost.

THAW OCCUPIES SAME CELL IN THE TOMBS

ACQUITTED ON CHARGE OF CONSPIRACY, SLAYER OF WHITE STILL PRISONER.

New York, March 13.—Harry Kendall Thaw, acquitted today of conspiracy in escaping from Matteawan, faced tonight a renewal of the determined efforts of New York state to send him back to the asylum. In his cell in the Tombs he was all enthusiasm. His keeper said he seemed to be the happiest man in the city.

Almost endless litigation seemed to be in sight as the result of the verdict. The words of acquittal had scarcely died on Foreman Bailey's lips when Deputy Attorney General Cook was on his feet with a motion to have Thaw recommitted to Matteawan. This was opposed by John B. Stannard, chief of Thaw's counsel, on the ground that the court already had under advisement a motion to return Thaw to New Hampshire, whence he came to answer the conspiracy charge. The motion was renewed and Supreme Court Justice Page set Monday, at 2 p. m., for argument thereon.

In the meantime, Thaw occupies his old cell in Tombs prison, the cell in which he was locked between the months that elapsed between the night he shot and killed Stanford White, nearly nine years ago, to his removal to Matteawan.

Thaw's four aides, in his whirlwind automobile flight through four states from Matteawan to Canada, were acquitted by the same verdict which acquitted Thaw and were discharged.

Deputy Attorney General Kennedy, while satisfied with the verdict in so far as it related to Thaw, said that he had expected a conviction of Thaw's accomplices.

An appeal from Justice Page's decision on the motion to return Thaw to Matteawan was regarded almost as a certainty, regardless of what the decision might be. The case, therefore, seemed likely to remain in the courts for months before final decision.

Thaw dined heartily in his cell in the Tombs tonight. To a warden who brought him a number of congratulatory telegrams, Thaw expressed his gratification at the verdict, but was non-committal in his comment when it was suggested that he might soon be declared sane and secure his liberty. "I am not sure of the outcome as to that," said Thaw, "but I am going to make a fight for it."

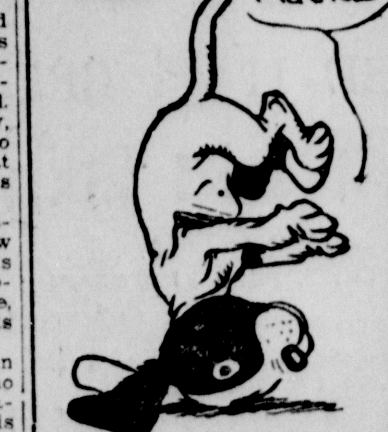

Rockefeller and Son in Railroad Shake-up

Richmond, Va., March 13.—John D. Rockefeller and his son, John D. Rockefeller Jr., were passengers on a Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad train which ran into an open switch at Milford, Va., forty miles north of Richmond, early today. They were shaken, but received no injuries. The train crashed, heading into a freight train on the Milford siding, damaging the engine and several cars. Another train was made up at Milford and the Rockefellers proceeded without having left their car.

Death at Temple.
Temple, March 13.—The death of T. P. Vaughan, one of the best known farmers in Bell county, occurred yesterday at his farm residence eight miles east of this city near Genaville. Deceased had resided in this vicinity for thirty years continuously, and was aged 82 years. He is survived by a wife and ten children.

SERGEANT OF SENATE CALLED INTO ACTION

BAILEY OF HARRIS AND McNEAL CROSS-FIRE, WITH LATTER CHARGING LOBBYING.

Austin, Tex., March 13.—The services of the sergeant at arms of the senate were called upon into action in the senate this afternoon when a motion by Townsend was made to reconsider the vote of yesterday by which the bill regulating pipe lines was postponed until March 19, the day preceding adjournment, which meant its final demise unless a process of resuscitation was found. McNeale objected vigorously and made a motion to adjourn until Monday in an effort to prevent consideration of the motion to reconsider.

Lattimore came in with points of order and there were other parliamentary tactics resorted to in the fight to keep the bill in its grave. In the course of the battle Bailey of Harris angered McNeale by saying that he was talking against time and that the Dallas senator retorted with one of the most impassioned invectives that has been heard in the senate chamber. He said he had become weary of the constant lobbying of the Texas company and its hirelings and was tired of being insulted by them in the attempt to make a senate for the Texas company out of the senate of Texas.

With Senator Bailey of Dewitt in the chair the fight raged until the sergeant at arms was called to restore order and permit the resumption of business. After much further wrangling the vote postponing the bill was reconsidered, fourteen to eleven, as follows:

Ayes—Austin, Bailey of Dewitt, Bailey of Harris, Brelsford, Clark, Hall, Harris, Hudspeth, King, Page, Parr, Smith, Townsend, Wiley—14.

Noes—Bee, Conner, Cowell, Gibson, Henderson, Johnson, McGregor, McNeale, Robbins, Smith—11.

Paired—Harley, voting aye with Lattimore, no; McCollum, aye, with Westbrook, no.

Absent—McGregor; not voting, Morrow.

McGregor called up his bill for an investigation of the alleged cotton seed trust but at that moment he received word of the death of Rev. H. M. Sears, chaplain of the senate for nearly 12 years, and immediately communicated that news to the senate. Brelsford sent in a resolution that when the senate adjourned it be "in honor of the memory of our late friend, the former chaplain of this senate, Rev. H. M. Sears," and that the president of the senate take all necessary steps toward the participation of the senate in the funeral services, to the end that the senate be properly represented at the funeral ceremonies, the expenses to be paid out of the contingent fund.

The funeral of Chaplain Sears will be held from the Tenth Street Methodist church at 3:30 Sunday afternoon. Rev. H. M. Whaling, chaplain of the house will act as chaplain also of the senate for the remainder of this term.

US DEMANDS SALAZAR TO PURNISH SOLDIERS WHO KILLED M'MANUS

ZAPATA COMMANDER IN MEXICO CITY MUST ALSO COMPENSATE FAMILY, DECLARES SECRETARY BRYAN—AMERICAN CONSUL INSTRUCTED TO SEE GEN. VILLA.

CAPITAL IS REPORTED QUIET

Villa Faction Gains Control of Coal Region of Coahuila, Good Order Established and Stores Are Opened. Scarcity of Food in Sonora—1,200 Horses Starve.

Washington, March 13.—Demands by the United States government on General Salazar, the Zapata commander in Mexico City, for the punishment of soldiers who murdered John B. McManus, an American citizen, and the payment of an adequate compensation to McManus' family were repeated today to General Villa.

"As Villa and Zapata," said Secretary Bryan, "have been co-operating, I thought it was a good idea to make representations to Villa as well so that the offenders would be punished."

The secretary telegraphed to George C. Carothers, American consular agent, accompanying Villa, the substance of the message which had previously been sent to Mexico City, with instructions to lay the matter before General Villa and urge prompt attention. As the finances of the Villa-Zapata government practically have been in control of Villa himself, the question of an indemnity to the family of McManus, it is believed, will be settled by the northern chief. General Salazar has promised already to punish those guilty of killing McManus.

Mexico City was reported quiet today with no change in the situation there. The following summary of conditions in other parts of Mexico was given out by the state department:

"The department is informed that the occupation of Piedras Negras by the Villa faction gives it complete control of the coal region of Coahuila. Good order has been established in Piedras Negras and merchants have reopened their stores. It is reported various issues of fiat money are being accepted. The railroad is rapidly being repaired and trains are running. Communication will not be open from Piedras Negras for a few weeks, on account of several large bridges having been dynamited by the Carranzistas."

A dispatch dated March 12, from Vera Cruz, states that General Carranza has announced that the gunboat Zaragoza at Progreso will detain any vessels found discharging or loading cargo and that he expects to occupy the port, operating by land and sea. The constitutionalist authorities at Vera Cruz announce that the Ocampo also has been ordered to Progreso. "The department is in receipt of a report dated March 8, covering the general political situation in the Nogales district. It is stated that Governor Maytorena has dispatched a large force to the south to repel the reported advance of Carranza forces under General Huertado. Governor Maytorena's control extends as far south as the neighborhood of Fundacion, on the Southern Pacific. Mexico. The Carranza forces occupy Alamos, Sonora, and Navajo, to the south, and Agua Prieta, in the north-east of Sonora.

"It is said that the phase of the Sonora situation now most serious seems to be the scarcity of food. Cases of actual starvation can be reported, but there are said to be thousands of people who have insufficient food supplies."

"It is said that the army of General Juan Cabral, in its march from Chihuahua, across the mountains into Sonora, lost 1,200 horses from starvation and exhaustion. Several men also died, as did many of the 300 women and children who accompanied the expedition. When the expedition reached Cananea it numbered about 2,000 poorly clad persons. The leaders were foodless."

COST MILLION YEAR FOR RAILROAD TO PROVIDE PACKERS

CHAIRMAN OF SOUTHWESTERN TAIRIFF COMMITTEE GIVES TESTIMONY AT INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION HEARING 'RELATIVE TO CARRIERS.'

TABLES ARE SUBMITTED

Earnings on Products Shown to Be Less Than on Other Commodities in Effort to Obtain Increase in Rates. Attorneys from Many Cities on Hand to Oppose Rates—More Revenue.

Chicago, March 13.—At costs the western railroads $1,000,000 a year to provide special facilities to the meat packers for the transportation of meat, although this outlay does not yield the railroads anything, according to F. A. Leland, of St. Louis, chairman of the Southwestern Traffic committee, who testified today at the interstate commerce commission's hearing of the western railroad's petition for higher rates on certain commodities.

The witness asserted that if the railroads hauled commodities other than meat they would save $1,000,000 a year which now goes to providing ice, quick service and hauling extra heavy cars. He said the packers had a traffic organization and shifted their business to the railroad which gave them the service they asked. "It was for this reason," he said, "the transportation of meats and packing house products does not bear its share of the maintenance of railroads, and it is upon this contention the railroads had asked an increase of approximately 3 1/2 cents a hundred pounds for the hauling of meats in certain territory east of the Rocky mountains. It would require a general increase of 3 1/2 cents on this commodity to equalize it with other rates," Mr. Leland asserted.

The witness submitted many tables purporting to show that the earnings of the railroads on meat and packing house products were less than on other commodities.

A dozen attorneys representing the packers in Chicago, Omaha, Fort Worth, Texas, and Kansas City were present to oppose the proposed increases. Walter McCormick, of counsel for the packers, wanted to know whether it was the policy of the railroads to first seek advances on meats and then to ask advances on other commodities.

"I do not know of any such plan," replied Mr. Leland.

A. B. Hayes, representing the American Meat Packers' Association, said: "Did you say that you selected, for increased rates, only such commodities as were not bearing now their share of the cost of transportation?"

"I said we selected only such commodities that were not now yielding their portion of revenue," was the reply. "We have not advanced rates solely because we needed more revenue." In reply to further cross-examination by W. E. Lamb the witness said he did not have any scientific way of determining what it costs to haul a certain commodity "except common sense."

"It's a matter of common sense for instance," said Leland, "that it costs more to haul a carload of meat in an especially heavy car than it would to haul a carload of nails in an ordinary car."

The cross-examination of Mr. Leland is to be resumed Monday.

General Zamora Captured.

Port au Prince, Haiti, March 13.—General Orestes Zamora, former president of Haiti, who has been engaged in a revolutionary movement in the region of Hinche, has been captured by government troops and brought here a prisoner.

General Zamora headed a revolution in the early part of 1914, and after proclaiming himself chief executive of Haiti, was elected president. Later he was overthrown by General Duvallier, who turned over to him the office of general Vilbrun Guillaume, who now occupies the presidential office.

Scott Family Moves and Hope of Village Wanes

South Bend, Ind., March 13.—The population of South Whitley, near here, was decreased considerably and the hope of the village that it might become a regular city in time was blasted with the departure for the west of the Frank Scott family. News of the emigration of the Scotts was brought to South Bend today by Frank M. Fugh.

Although married only ten years, Mr. and Mrs. Scott have been the parents of nineteen children, thirteen of whom are living, all sons and all under the age of five years.

Five sets of triplets have been born to the Scotts. They declared before their departure that they hoped to find a suitable home for their entire family, present and prospective, somewhere in Oklahoma or Kansas.

In naming the children born to them, Mr. and Mrs. Scott have picked names beginning with the letter "A," thus far they have gone from Abel to Austin.

Surviving Dr. Sears is his wife and one daughter and two brothers, A. N. Sears and B. F. Sears, both of Paducah, Ky.

When the senate adjourned this afternoon it was out of respect to the memory of the deceased chaplain.

Rev. Mr. Whaling will act as chaplain the remainder of the session, the compensation to be given the widow of Dr. Sears.

Chaplain of Texas Senate, Age 79 Years, Passes Away

Austin, Tex., March 13.—Rev. Henry M. Sears, 79 years old, serving his sixth term as chaplain of the Texas senate, died at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at his home in this city, after an illness of two weeks. He had not been in the senate chamber since about a week ago, during which time he was confined to his bed.

Dr. Sears was a member of the Texas conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. He was born Sept. 16, 1836, in Murray county, Tennessee, and came to Texas in 1852, where he resided continuously until his death. He had been a resident of Austin since 1897. For forty-five years he was actively engaged in preaching.

Waco Banks Show Big Progress

Increased deposits and cash reserves and decreased loans since January 1 are shown in the reports of the banks of Waco, made to cover the period from January 1 to March 3. In the six largest banks accepting deposits, the increase in this item for the quarter was $807,809.01. During the same period cash reserves increased $1,109,118.22 and loans decreased $261,718.14. This increase of deposits and reserves and decrease of loans indicates a return to normal conditions, being relatively the condition of Waco banks a year ago, before the business depression incident to the war cut the deposits and sent the loans skyward.

A composite statement of several of the most prominent bankers of Waco yesterday was that banking conditions are normal again, and that all forms of business enterprise are showing a relaxation of the tension that has restricted all trade for the past several months.

The Broad Way Leads to Goodyear Tires

Try it a little while. It has carried some 400,000 motorists to the haven of content. It is traveled by more users than has any other tire. That has been so for years.

We can't win you to Fortified Tires by asking you to try them. The tires themselves must win you.

But our plea is that you should try the tires that countless men found best. There must be a reason as you know, why Goodyears dominate like this. Last year men bought about one Goodyear for every car in use.

Men Like You

This Goodyear army is composed of men like you. They want quality, safety, endurance. They want trouble-saving and low cost per mile.

Goodyears best met these wants. They met them because they are Fortified Tires.

BAYLOR EXAMS BEGIN ON TUESDAY MORNING

PRESS CLUB ELECTS DELEGATES TO INTERCOLLEGIATE CONVENTION AT DENTON.

STUDENTS TO CHOOSE EDITORS

Subsidizing of American Merchant Marine Will Be Discussed in Inter-Class Debate.

Examinations closing the winter quarter of Baylor University will begin next Tuesday and continue for the remainder of the week. Unlike many of the universities Baylor has three quarters during the nine months instead of two semesters. Each quarter is complete in itself and students enter without any inconvenience in beginning any of these three months' terms. The spring work will begin Tuesday, March 23. Monday of next week will be given over to matriculation and classification.

Among the additions to the regular schedule of courses offered for the new quarter will be that of library work under the instruction of W. P. Lewis, librarian of Baylor, and a new course in history dealing with France and Germany to bring out the historical background of the present European war will be taught by Prof. F. G. Guillard.

The course in library work will deal with the elements of classification and consist of lectures, recitations and actual practice by the members of the class. It is probable that the course will be offered at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Full college credit will be given for the work. This new course will be followed by more advanced library work later and is open not only to regular students but will be offered for any who wish to sign for it alone.

Press Delegates Elected. Representatives of Baylor to the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association which meets at Denton with the College of Industrial Arts, April 1 and 2, were elected by the local college club at their meeting last week. B. V. Ellzey of Goodnight, editor of the Round-Up, will go as a member of the executive committee of the state association and the regular delegates selected were Miss Catherine Lattimore of Waco, Miss Doyle Thrallkill of San Antonio, and Harold W. Walker of Dallas.

Walton Petet of Waco, formerly editorial writer for the Morning News, and now with the extension department of A. and M. college, will be the speaker at the last meeting of the Bay Press Club. In speaking to the college journalists, Mr. Petet urged those who intended to do actual newspaper work to get modern ideas and take the special courses that are offered by colleges in newspaper training.

He emphasized the fact that the "cub" reporter as an apprentice is getting to be a "by-gone" product and that in his place the newspapers are demanding reporters already trained in their profession. Mr. Petet admitted that he was once of the opinion formerly held by many of the "old school" of newspaper men, that the journalism schools were a mere fraud of no value. Now the school of journalism is just as practical and essential as the school of law or medicine, the speaker said.

The moving picture scenario will be taken up at the next meeting of the club on Wednesday evening, April 24. An original scenario with a Waco setting will be presented by one of the members. For the first time in the history of the student publications of Baylor, the editors and managers will be elected by the popular vote of the student body under the constitution of that students self-governing regime, and that went into effect this year. The election will take place Thursday, March 25, and promises to create a lively interest on the part of the students.

New Y. W. C. A. President. Miss Ivor Connel of Gilmer, a member of the junior class, has been elected as the president of the Y. W. C. A. of Baylor for the ensuing year. Other officers for the student "Y. W." that were chosen last week are Miss Genevieve Warren of Palestine, vice president; Miss Catherine Faust of Dublin, treasurer. The members of the cabinet for the new session are Miss Martha Young, Bible study; Miss Genevieve Warren, public relations; Miss Marshall, social service; Miss Marian-na Elder, religious; Miss Clonatha Copass, vespers service; Miss Irene Lacy, program; Miss Nettie Rogers, social, and Miss Doyle Thrallkill, reading room chairman.

Debate Subject Chosen. The question of subsidizing the American merchant marine has been selected as the subject for the annual inter-class debate of Baylor hereabouts. The freshmen and the sophomores. This is of the underclassmen and is a victory that means much to the winning class's honors for the year. Ernest G. Whitney and Ben Carigan from the first year men, will support the affirmative of the question and Henderson Barton and R. E. Grogan will represent the sophomores on the negative. The debate will be held April 10.

St. Louis Browns at Temple. Temple, March 13.—Branch Rickey's St. Louis Browns, of the American League, will be given an opportunity to solve Governor Ferguson's riddle as the first baseball game of the season which will be played between the Browns and the Temple Governors of the Middle Texas League here on March 25. Last summer the politicians were unable to do anything with the governor's offerings when he played ball with them and the Browns are rushing a forlorn hope. The governor will occupy the mound and Ben Shelton will do the backstop work on the first ball pitched of the game and the local club is negotiating with Manager John J. McGraw of the New York Giants for an exhibition game at an early date with fair prospects of success. Manager Burleson has purchased the release of Shaffer, the star backstop of the Waxahachie team of last year's Central Texas League, for a consideration of $250. So confident is Burleson that he personally guaranteed the club owners that Shaffer would be sold to faster company before the season ends for much higher price than the original investment.

COLLEGE CIRCUS ON CARROLL FIELD PROVES SUCCESS

The first Baylor circus in several years was staged by the students on Carroll field yesterday and proved to be quite a success from the collegians' viewpoint with its elaborate combination of joy-makers and burlesque.

The gala day started with a parade of the business section of the town in the morning when a pageant of co-eds in automobiles and vehicles and college boys as clowns, rubes and laugh-makers were headed by the Baylor band under Charles Parker. Following the parade of the circus remained in full force all the afternoon with a program of track events, gymnastic stunts, boxing bouts, folk dancing and multitude of side shows. The circus was held for the benefit of the athletic building fund of the university.

Mounted policemen headed the parade with the band coming next, their mascot, Charlie Parker, Jr., on a miniature bicycle. Miss Jewel Ingram as an Egyptian queen, was the first of the college features. She was carried in her palanquin supported on the shoulders of four collegians. The "moochers" of the circus consisted of a repertoire of students in motley to represent a second Coxey's army, a chariot racing mule, a hoosier saxophone quartette, a generous sprinkling of clowns were other features of the parade. The main body of which consisted of decorated automobiles and floats in the Baylor colors. Prof. F. G. Guillard was the chief marshal with H. E. Alexander as mounted assistant.

One of the chief numbers of interest on the afternoon program was a series of gymnastic exhibitions on the parallel bars by Physical Directors Conway and Hall of the Waco Y. M. C. A. In addition to a repertoire of thrilling acrobatic stunts the "Y" members presented some artistic feats with the punching bag.

In the inter-class track meet, the seniors won a close lead over the sophomores, finishing with a total of 14 points against the second year men's 12 points.

The entries and results were as follows: 100-yard dash—Robertson, sophomore, first, time 10 4-5 seconds; Soap, junior, second; Penrod, senior, third. 220-yard dash—Caskey, senior, first, time 25 2-5 seconds; Penrod, senior, second; Robertson, sophomore, third. 440-yard dash—Porter, sophomore, first, time 58 seconds; Williams, freshman, second; Walker, sophomore, third.

Relay—Won by seniors, Penrod, Caskey, Nuckels and Willingham; sophomores, Jameson, Porter, Roberts, Walker.

The freshmen and juniors practically made no showing with only three points each to their credit. The inter-class boxing and sparring exhibitions were given by Matthews, Burnett and Durham, student athletes. Twenty young women dressed in white with large red ribbons on their hair gave several drills illustrating the aesthetic calisthenics and folk dances. These were under the direction of Miss Annie Maxwell.

Music was furnished by the Baylor band and by the student saxophone quartette.

Food Doubles in Price in Austrian Capital

Venice, via London, March 13.—Intelligence reaching here from Vienna shows that many articles of daily food have more than doubled in price in the Austrian capital since the war began, and that there has been a secret speculation in foodstuffs which has aroused the indignation of the people in both Vienna and Budapest. It is alleged that many refugees from Galicia who have money are employing their funds in speculating in foodstuffs. Exploiting the necessities of the small storekeepers and the consuming public is regarded as a poor return for the shelter and hospitality offered to the tens of thousands of the half starving fellow countrymen of these Galicians.

This trafficking in food supplies is carried on secretly, chiefly in the coffee houses. Through agents sent to the provinces, large stores of food are bought and retailed at exorbitant prices to storekeepers. As the agents are carrying on business without proper trade licenses, they are being prosecuted, and more than one-fifth of them already have been arrested.

Authoritative quotations of the Vienna market disclosed the fact that flour now costs 8c a pound and that dried peas are 11c a pound, compared to 4c last July. Split peas now cost 15c and lard 40c a pound, which is double the price they were selling for when war was declared. Eggs bring 30c and 40c apiece, compared to their former price of 25c each. Beef is selling at from 25c to 30c a pound, while pork brings from 24c to 40c. The consumption of horseflesh is steadily increasing. Today it costs from 10c to 16c a pound, compared to 8c last summer.

Sugar, thanks to the beet product, has risen very little. It now costs 8c or 9c a pound, which is only 1 1/2c more than before the war. Bread has gone up considerably and now costs from 8c to 12c for a two-pound loaf. The quality leaves much to be desired, as it is only 50 per cent flour. The remainder is a mixture of meals made from corn, barley and potatoes. The Viennese bakers, famous for their excellent bread, do not seem to have learned how to mix these ingredients advantageously.
Petroleum is quoted at 8c a gallon; it cost 25c last July. Soft coal has risen to $10 a ton, and it is difficult to obtain at any price.
Next to her efforts in the field of war, Austria-Hungary is now devoting her greatest energies to agricultural pursuits. An announcement put out by the government on the subject of labor says:
"If we can obtain sufficient labor, the next harvest is assured."
The war having robbed the country of most of its able-bodied men, tens of thousands of boys and girls have been released from the schools, and together with the married women, they are being pressed into service. By a special decree of the Austrian ministry, all children between 12 and 14 years of age are excused from school work and this host of child labor is being organized systematically. By distributing seeds and agricultural machinery, the government has done all in its power to stimulate farming and it is hoped that the next harvest will not be much below the normal.

HIPPODROME.

Program for Week.
Sunday and Monday—"Hypocrites," four-part Paramount picture, with Margaret Edwards, Courtenay Foote, Myrtle Stedman and others.
Tuesday and Wednesday—"Mignon," five-part World Feature film, with Beatriz Michelina and House Peters.
Thursday—"The Little Angel of Canyon Creek," five-part Vitaphone Broadway Star feature, with Marguerite Gibson and all-star Vitaphone cast.
Friday and Saturday—"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," five-part World Feature film, with Beatriz Michelina, House Peters, Andrew Robinson and Blanche Chapman.

"Hypocrites."

"Hypocrites," the most unusual motion picture of the present and probably the most talked-about picture of the history of the film as presented at the Hippodrome for the last two days and which continues its engagement at that popular photoplay house today and tomorrow, has been the object of a noteworthy comment from many Waco people who have seen it. The presentation of Truth, in the nude, as done by Lois Weber, the author, and presented by Margaret Edwards, have been commented on both for its moral and for its artistic element.

The picture, "Hypocrites," presents a great truth in artistic form and with a great meaning in a series of very pretty pictures. It is the finest allegorical production shown in any form in Waco. It proves that moving pictures can present great truths more convincingly and more elaborately than in any other form of entertainment.

The subtle meaning of this picture is not grasped at once, but it is a picture that will live long in the mind and have a good influence. It appeals to one to note how the world fears truth. The figure, Truth, in the film is symbolic. Its undraped presentation is beyond criticism, representing the way Truth appears to the world.

A feature of the Hippodrome program that never grows old is the musical program. The full orchestra, under the strong direction of the orchestra, now arrives at the beginning of his review, rather than at the end, for the organ solos and accompaniment by Prof. Street, is a musical program that few cities of America may boast of.

Professor Street is little short of a genius. His music has been a favorite in London for a long time. Later, the same success attended him in Chicago, Buffalo, Dallas and Houston. His assignment to the Waco Hippodrome, after its acquisition by E. E. Hulsey, the movie magnate of Texas, was one of two purposes the new general manager claims his primary assets toward the success of the enterprise first, that this city was known as the most cosmopolitan for its size in this section and would patronize in great numbers, a good motion picture program; second, that Professor Street would be an attraction to music lovers, who may or may not be interested in motion pictures. It begins to look like Mr. Hulsey's prediction was a good one.

"Mignon."

Beatriz Michelina, the most beautiful girl in America, will appear on the screen at the Hippodrome Tuesday and Wednesday in "Mignon," a reproduction of the famous Augustus Thomas opera of that name. House Peters is the male star in the five-part World Feature film for the two days. When Miss Michelina was a star on the grand opera stage, "Mignon" and "Carmen" were her two favorite roles.

In "Mignon" it is promised that fans may expect the utmost in marvels of screen presentation, for here is a screen romance that is tender. You will sympathize with this pretty girl in trouble—that is the whole story of "Mignon," and she happens to have been voted the prettiest girl in America when the contest was conducted by a syndicate newspaper not so long ago.

In short, the highly romantic characters of the play, its contrasts and its crimes, its aristocratic environment, the beautiful distance covered by the wandering girl who had run away from home to palaces by the sea; its wildernesses, its ball rooms, and, most of all, its wonderful photographic feats and superb action, with its beautiful heroine, will make the production a notable event in any community where the soul of poetry, pity for beauty in distress or love of adventure still persist.

Vitaphone Theatre Feature.

"The Little Angel of Canyon Creek," a five-part Vitaphone Broadway Star feature, which means a feature photoplay from the Vitaphone New York theatre, has been booked for Thursday of this week. There has never been a mediocre picture shown at the Vitaphone theatre, each feature being selected from forty of the many good Vitaphone films made each month. The coming one has passed muster at other Hulsey theatres, where it was as welcome as Broadway attractions are ever wanted to be. One of the beauties of moving pictures is the fact that Broadway shows are shown in this far-away point, still Broadway shows and not No. 4 company shows. In "The Little Angel of Canyon Creek," Gertrude Short becomes a celebrity, if, indeed, she is not already. In the picture, as the Angel, the Hippodrome management vouches for the assertion that she will make an indelible impression. There are numerous others that will count. There will be scenery that is a joy to behold.

"Mrs. Wiggs." The woman, who is not a woman at all, but only a character, yet as monumental in the promotion of honesty and as much a model toward American womanhood to women as Lincoln or Washington is to men, is coming to Waco Friday and Saturday. She is "Mrs. Wiggs." Yes, "of the Cabbage Patch." "The sweetest old soul that ever lived" is another name she goes by. Call her what you will. Nothing makes her cross. She has accepted more burdens of others that were blessings to her in the straightening, than most any two other kind-hearted women in fiction.

Up in Louisville, Ky., there used to be just such a Cabbage Patch, where the railroads webbed in and out of the Louisville and Nashville yards. They called it the cabbage patch. Alvin Hagan Rice visited there once upon a time. She met "Mrs. Wiggs," "Lovey Mary" and "Mr. Bob," "Miss Hazy" and "Mr. Stubbs." She put them all down in a book, the most widely read book of its kind anywhere.

Nothing misses the microscopic lens of a movie camera for long. That is, nothing does that is worth while. Now the movie lens has immortalized "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." As it has been done, the immortalizing process is good enough to keep put away after we see it this time—in a can. It may be brought out again in a hundred years or so, and there, all fresh, and true and impelling as today, some one may see Blanche Chapman as Mrs. Wiggs, Beatriz Michelina, the prettiest girl in the world in 1915, as Lovey Mary. House Peters will be Mr. Stubbs, who ran off from his young wife, Miss Hazy, and you will remember that he had the foresight to take along a couple of them pies Mrs. Wiggs had baked for him. The lives of these characters are recorded in history along with other great Americans, past and present.

REX.

"Runaway June." If you have not solved the money question in your home, the matter of partnership between husband and wife, you should not fail to see "Runaway June." It is the great George Randolph Chester photoplay serial in fifteen weekly installments of two reels each, to be seen at the Rex theatre, beginning today.

This is not a dry problem play. It is a thrilling story of adventure, a pulsating lyric of love and, more than either, a mighty mystery, which baffles solution to those not in the secret. But in addition to all these merits, it has the added one of a separate and important message and benefit to every married man and every married woman and all of those who hope some day to live in the married state.

Husband, does your wife spend more than you think she should? Does she contract bills for you to pay without your permission? Do you give her an allowance? Do you pay her a salary for managing your home? Does she seem embarrassed at accepting money from you? Does she know your income?

Wife, does your husband accuse you of extravagance? Do you know how much he spends? Do you dislike taking money from him? Would you rather go out as he does and earn your living and each contribute toward the maintenance and management of your joint home?

Both see "Runaway June." It will help you to solve this world-old enigma.

"Minerva's Mission."

Minerva comes home from college convinced that she has a great mission in life. She starts in to reform society. The trust company, which has charge of her fortune, is represented by a young Mr. Grant. She tries to stop him from smoking and then attempts to dissuade a laboring man from drinking beer with his lunch. Visiting the home of the laborer's home of his mother, Minerva determines to educate the entire family and spends money lavishly on them, much to Mr. Grant's dismay. The boorish workman misconstrues her interest and attempts to make advances to the pretty heiress. She repulses him. Coveting her money, the fellow resorts to force to get it. Minerva gets word to young Grant just in time for him to come with the police to her rescue. Rex Theatre today.

COZY.

In Arizona, Tomorrow night Besse Dainty will present at the new Cozy theatre, a highly entertaining western comedy-drama entitled "In Arizona." This play, with its scenes laid in Arizona, and dealing with the adventures of a young stockman who joins the army, can hardly be excelled for the production of laughter and applause. From first to last it is laden with excitement, adventure, thrills and love.

Miss Dainty will be seen in the role of a daughter of the commandant of an army post who falls in love with a private in her father's command. It is a part very suitable to her person and style of delivery, and one in which she has been uniformly successful in all her stock engagements.

The piece concerns the experiences of a young rancher whose sister is wronged by an army officer and who avenges her honor by shooting the culprit. He thinks he has killed the man and as the probabilities of his escaping the law seem few, he decides to flee the country. He assumes another name and joins the army. Then by a strange freak of fate he is sent into the company of the man whom he thinks he has killed. This man now has him at his mercy, and uses all means to make his life miserable. The daughter of the commander of the post likes him and learns to love him. She is also admired by the officer who has caused so much trouble in the life of the private. The two fight for her hand on such even terms in spite of the fact that one is a private that the officer at last resorts to treachery. The private strikes him and is court-martialed. To save his life, the girl is compelled to marry the officer, but refuses to live with him. In the end all turns out happily and the two lovers are united.

QUEEN.

"Beating Back."

Al Jennings, erstwhile bandit, train robber and convict and later lawyer, politician and leading candidate for governor of Oklahoma, was the guest of honor at a banquet in New York given by New York's Four Hundred at which there were ladies and gentlemen of nobility, American millionaires, and many other persons of prominent name and position.

At this time Mr. Jennings was in New York appearing before the motion picture camera for the Thanhouser Film Corporation of New York in a picturization of his famous "Human Document" story, "Beating Back," as published in the Saturday Evening Post.

Among the notables present were Dr. Catherine Davis and Mrs. Florence Guernsey, both of whom are internationally held in esteem. The former is superintendent of corrections for Greater New York and is perhaps held in higher regard than any other lady in New York. At the reception, Dr. Davis spoke with great fervor concerning the principles for which Mr. Jennings is working. Likewise, Mrs. Florence Guernsey addressed the assemblage in language complimentary to Mr. Jennings and as she is considered by many the leading club woman of America, her speech in behalf of Jennings and his ideals made a deep impression.

When the Million Dollar Rose Garden theatre opened on Broadway in New York on October 1, these same ladies and gentlemen gathered thousands of others to see Jennings himself in what the critics call a masterpiece photo-drama, "Beating Back," in six reels.

Queen theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

"Sunshine Molly."

"Sunshine Molly," a Bosworth (Inc.) production at the Queen Monday and Tuesday tells the story of a young woman who goes to an oil town in search of work and in finding it there also finds many good hearts and faithful friends among the rough and honest men of the wells. Yet there is one who is different—so different, in fact, that through an insulting act to her, he is ostracized by his fellow workmen, and only her intercession saves him from bodily harm. As time goes on, her sunny smile and helpful ways endear her to all and he, outside the pale, bitterly regrets the action he has committed in a moment of bravado. He worries so that his nerves become affected and his queer actions cause him to be shunned all the more by his companions. One night he is stricken, falls unconscious and is later found by Molly, who takes him to his hut and tenderly cares for him. From that time on it is as if a new man has awakened in his stead and he becomes a man, in fact, and action as well as in name. It is a strong part and played as such by Phillips Smalley can play it. Lois Weber is also well fitted for the title role of "Sunshine Molly." No expense has been spared to

Best Laxative For Children

When your baby is cross and fretful instead of the happy, laughing little dear you are accustomed to, in all probability the digestion has become deranged and the bowels need attention. Give it a mild laxative, dispel the irritability and bring back the happy content of babyhood.

The very best laxative for children is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, because it contains no opiate or narcotic drug, is pleasant tasting and acts gently, but surely, without griping or other distress. Druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

OLD KENTUCKY FACES PROHIBITION FIGHT

Certainty That Prohibition Will Largely Figure in Its Primary and Fall Elections.

Flush by the election of a man to the United States senate who has been once the victim and always the enemy of Kentucky's liquor machine, statewide prohibitionists of the Blue Grass country have succeeded in making the wet and dry issue the paramount question in the forthcoming primaries and next fall election, when Kentucky is to name a governor.

Already, one candidate for the democratic nomination, J. W. Newman, who has been a highly successful administrator of Kentucky's state agricultural work, has announced himself squarely in favor of statewide prohibition. Only one candidate is understood to be openly opposed to prohibition.

Indications are that Kentucky will vote upon the question of state prohibition as quickly as the next administration can bring the matter to the ballot.

Montana Newspapers Favor State Prohibition

Poll Conducted by Helena Independent Wet Paper, Shows Majority Dry.

The Helena Independent, of Helena, Montana, a wet newspaper, has just conducted a poll to ascertain the attitude of newspapers in that state toward the prohibition question. In answer to the question, "Do you believe the present legislature should submit a constitutional amendment to the people of the state looking toward making the state dry?" The vote was "Yes" 54; "No" 29. In answer to the question, "Do you favor statewide prohibition?" the vote was "Yes" 51; "No" 41.

Montana will vote on prohibition in 1916, and unless the dries are badly fooled the state will banish the liquor traffic.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

1. HODGDON, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—MRS. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Me.

2. SHELBYVILLE, KY.—"I suffered from a severe female trouble. My right side hurt me badly—it was finally decided that I must be operated upon. When my husband learned this he got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking it a few days I got better and continued to improve until I am now well."—MRS. MOLLIE SMITH, R.F.D., Shelbyville, Ky.

3. HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—MRS. ADA WILT, 303 Walnut St., Hanover, Pa.

4. DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—MRS. LAURA A. GRISWOLD, 2437 East William Street, Decatur, Ill.

5. CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—MRS. C. H. GRIFFITH, 1568 Constant St., Cleveland, O.

CASH REGISTER CASE BACK FOR 20 TRIAL

UNITED STATES COURT OF AP.
PEALS OVERRULES LOWER
TRIBUNAL'S DECISION.

CHARGE OF CONSPIRACY

Judge Admits Proper Form But Evidence Lacking Because of Three-Year Limit.

Cincinnati, March 13.—Holding that the evidence of one count was insufficient and that neither of the other two counts should have been considered by the district court which tried the case, the United States court of appeals for the sixth circuit today overruled the decision of the lower court which convicted John H. Patterson and twenty-six other officials or former officials of the National Cash Register company of Dayton, Ohio, of being guilty of violating the criminal section of the Sherman anti-trust act and remanded the case back to the lower court for a new trial.

The first count charged conspiracy to monopolize the cash register trade in this country, while the other two counts charged the monopoly of the trade. The upper court held that while the first count was in proper form to present to the jury, yet evidence had been introduced concerning National Cash Register competitors who had not been in existence during the three-year limit of law previous to the finding of the indictment. This evidence, the court said, should not have been allowed.

The court continued: "We think that there was conspiracy against competition during the years that the National Cash Register company was making its first fight, but the evidence showing that a conspiracy did exist, only brings us to the door of the three-year period and it was for us to decide whether it had entered that door."

In the decree the court said the National Cash Register company was the pioneer in the cash register business, developed it, owned the basic patents and must have acquired in a proper manner a very great number of improvement patents.

"It is not likely," said the decree, "that its trade was pirated by other competitors besides the American of Philadelphia and the Boston, against whom it obtained the decrees of infringement and that these, as well as others, in their competition with it resorted to some of the tactics complained of here."

Baylor Track Men Start on Practice

A few of Baylor's track men reported to Captain Clyde Penrod last week for preliminary practice and with the approach of a warmer weather the track will begin regular working out for the three meets that come during the spring. The track and equipment is being put into shape and if the weather continues fair it is possible that most of the runners will be out this week and the men for the field events will soon follow. Heretofore, tennis has been claiming most of the track athletes because of the weather, but the coaches are now counting on outdoor training and the men will not hit the cinders until there is some assurance of regular work-outs.

Practically all of the Bear trackmen of last year's squad are in school and Captain Penrod thinks the showing will be an improvement over last season.

The meets scheduled are: Dual meet in Waco with Southwestern of Orangeburg, April 3; tripartite meet at Brownwood with Howard Payne and Daniel Baker colleges of that city, and the final meet of the southwestern conference at Austin will be held some time during May. Most of the schools in this section of the South will be represented in the last meet.

Medical Society to Meet Tuesday Night

The regular meeting of the McLennan County Medical society will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. The subject of the discussion will be "Cardio-Vascular Disorders" will be read: "Diagnosis," Dr. W. L. Jennings, Mart. "Pathology," Dr. C. E. Smith, Mart. "Symptoms and Diagnosis," Dr. L. F. Cannon, Mart.

"Prophylaxis and Treatment," Dr. E. J. Wadsworth, Mart.

Dr. C. C. Collum, J. R. Gilliam and M. L. Langford of Mart will open the discussion.

Noted Negro Singer Here Monday Night

Paul Quinn College and Central Texas normal have united in bringing Patti Brown, a noted negro singer, to Waco in an effort to raise funds for the two institutions. The concert will be held in the Auditorium tomorrow night.

The management has announced that a part of the downstairs has been reserved for white people. On account of the financial stringency through which the section has just passed, the schools are in need of immediate funds, and this plan was adopted to bring a noted artist of the negro race to Waco and to give financial aid to the institutions.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. J. P. Cole has returned from a visit to relatives in Houston.

Mrs. S. F. Lamb of Granger spent last week here with her mother, Mrs. J. P. Cole.

Mrs. Jeanette Stern is visiting her grandparents, Mrs. Joe W. Sanger, on North Nineteenth street.

Dr. S. J. Jones, one of the State University regents, was here from Salado yesterday visiting friends.

Fire Chief A. M. Prescott was reported to be weaker yesterday, his condition seeming to be critical.

Billy Azell, secretary to Postmaster W. H. Hoffman, has returned from a week's vacation spent at Brownwood and Marlin.

WACO MACCABEES PLAN BIG TIME IN TEMPLE

SPECIAL TRAIN WILL CARRY THE
Y. M. B. L. SIREN, EVERY-MILE
CANNON AND BAND.

Fight Will Be Made for District and State Convention of the Order.

With the big Y. M. B. L. siren screaming all the way and Frank Crow's every-mile cannon blaring at the proper intervals, the Maccabees special to the quadrennial state convention of the Knights of the Maccabees at Temple will make the natives along the Santa Fe right-of-way sit up and take notice tomorrow. The Boy Scouts' band will also be taken along to furnish music for the travelers and to lead the triumphant march into Temple.

Many tickets have already been sold for the special, which will carry Maccabees, their ladies and friends. Tickets will be on sale at the station tomorrow until the train leaves. Maccabees from Mart, Hillsboro, Riesel and other towns near Waco are expected to be on the special when it leaves the Cotton Belt station at 2:15 p. m.

The Waco delegation will make a strong effort to bring the next state convention to Waco. The selection of the place of holding the quadrennial of the size and enthusiasm of the delegation sent to the state convention, and to the condition of the local tent itself. As somewhat of a compliment to J. B. Sawtell of this city, for twenty-eight years state commander of the order, and in consideration of the fact that Waco is the home of the Maccabees in Texas, the order having been established here by Mr. Sawtell twenty-eight years ago, the Waco Maccabees are hoping to make a good enough showing to induce the trustees to send the next convention here. The district meeting for this district, to be held in May of this year, will also be sought by the delegates of the Waco tent expect to be leading the state both in members and in the Maccabee work in general.

To push the convention-grabbing at Temple, Sir Knight C. H. Cross, John McMurrian and William Reese were named as a stunt committee by the local tent. These boosters are planning some surprises for the Maccabees at Temple. In addition to the siren, every-mile cannon and the Boy Scouts' band, the party will take along Sheriff Fleming's biggest Angora goat. This is no kid, say the stunt-pullers.

Tomorrow night one of the largest classes in the history of the Maccabees will be initiated into the mysteries of the order. From Waco about 100 candidates will go. While the men are attending the initiation of the class, the ladies of the party will be entertained by the Lady Maccabees of Temple. One of the women's societies of the city will serve a supper to the delegates and others.

The local tent of the Maccabees held a special called meeting last Friday night, at which time arrangements for the convention trip were discussed and perfected. A large percentage of the membership was present, and a large class from Waco and Mart was initiated. All candidates who applied for membership since Feb. will be taken to Temple tomorrow free of charge.

U S DEMANDS SALAZAR TO PUNISH SOLDIERS WHO KILLED M'MANUS

well supplied with paper money, but according to reports, were unable to obtain supplies because there was nothing on hand to purchase.

Enrique C. Llorente, General Villa's representative here, issued a statement tonight regarding the McManus case which says in part:

"There are certain features about the McManus case which give rise to a suspicion that the deceased might not have been entirely without fault. If, as stated, he was guilty of having killed three Zapata soldiers when the latter entered Mexico City some months ago, it is equally possible that he might have been detected in sniping on Wednesday last when the same troops again entered the capital. I have no doubt that he would have been shot by way of reprisal, which would tend to relieve the Mexican government from responsibility."

"On the other hand, he may have been wantonly shot by an irregular group of soldiers. Should investigation develop that such was the case, the American people may be assured that the provisional government of Mexico will make due reparation through the payment of a money indemnity to the family of the deceased."

"In this incident we will be guided by the policy of the United States in cases in which foreigners have met death by mob violence within its territory. In conformity with that policy, the demand is a reasonable time within which to complete an investigation and when that is accomplished, prompt and suitable action will be taken."

Y M C A Boys Hold District Conference in Waco This Week

Boys from all the Sunday schools of the city and near by cities will meet at district conference in Waco Friday, Saturday and Sunday under the auspices of the local Y. M. C. A. The object of the conference is to further religious activities among boys. John L. Hunter, student secretary of the Y. M. C. A., with headquarters at Dallas, will be one of the principal speakers at the conference. The adult committees and boys of the local association have put forth much effort to make the conference a success. Several speakers from the junior department visited nearby places and addressed meetings of boys in interest of the conference.

During the conference the boys from out of the city will be entertained in the homes of Waco boys. Saturday

Little More Drilling Needed at New Well

But little more drilling will be required at the Jefferson and River Driveway well until the second flow of water is reached. The first flow was reached several days ago and after penetrating the sixty-foot strata of water bearing sand a flow of 150,000 gallons per day was secured.

All day yesterday casing was being put in. With the commencing again of digging today, the last of the drilling is being done. It is hoped that a 500,000 gallon flow will be produced.

With the removal of the derrick the ground which belongs to the water works and consists of four or five lots, will probably be soddied and made attractive by the board of water commissioners. There will be no machinery or unsightly buildings on the grounds in connection with the well, as the water will be allowed to flow by gravity to the filter pumps and only one pipe will be above ground at the point where the well is being dug.

Mission Closes Tonight.

The papal blessing tonight will mark the close of the mission which has been in progress at the Church of the Assumption for a week. The mission for children closed yesterday morning.

Last night the Blessed Sacrament was exposed for the adoration of the faithful. The service tonight will be at 7:30. Rev. R. T. Cahill, O. P., will preach at the second mass this morning and at night.

The Doctor's ADVICE

By Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Building St., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

according to directions you will soon be well again and be glad you well get 2 drams of iodide of potassium; 4 drams sodium salicylate, 1/2 oz. wine of colchicum, 1 oz. comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz. comp. fluid balsam and 5 cts. of syrup sarsaparilla comp. Mix and take a teaspoonful at meal time and again before going to bed.

C. O. C. asks: "I am constipated, tongue coated, have headaches, dizzy spells and indigestion sometimes. Please advise."

Answer: I advise that you begin using three grain sulphur tablets (not sulphur). These tablets are laxative, act on the liver, kidneys and bowels and tend to keep the blood pure, by arousing the eliminative functions. Relief should follow quickly.

"Secretary" writes: "I have pains in my spine and frightful headaches in back of head, fainting spells, twitching and trembling, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and strength and in fact am a 'has been,' when it comes to performing accustomed work and duties. Please advise."

Answer: In all such cases the assimilative functions have not kept pace with the work functions and a powerful harmless tonic treatment is needed. I find three grain cadomene tablets unexcelled and astonishingly beneficial in such cases and advise them for you.

Mrs. C. W. B. asks: "I suffer greatly owing to too much fat. Can you give me of a good reduction remedy?"

Answer: Any well stocked pharmacy can supply you with 5 grain arbolone tablets packed in sealed tubes with full directions for use. These tablets have proven wonderfully effective in reducing abnormal fat.

"Fern" writes: "I have suffered with a bad cough some time and I am also weak and tired most of the time, which I think is due to the severe coughing. Can you give me a remedy?"

Answer: Yes, your weakness is due to the coughing, but the coughing is well relieved by using the following: Get a 2 1/2 oz. package of essence mentho-laxene and make according to directions on the bottle, then take a spoonful every hour or two until the cough is cured. This makes a full pint of the very best and safest cough syrup. If your druggist does not have mentho-laxene, have him order it for you of the wholesale firm.

Mrs. D. E. B. asks: "Will you please give me a prescription for Pelvic catarrh and catarrh of the head?"

Answer: The very best local treatment for the relief and correction of catarrh is antiseptic Vaseline Powder. Obtain either a two or eight ounce package with which you will find complete directions for treating catarrh of the head and pelvic catarrh (leucorrhea). It is an antiseptic of the very highest quality.

Miss "Constance" asks: "I am very thin and bloodless and want to increase my weight about 30 pounds. Please tell me what method to pursue?"

Answer: A regular and persistent use of three grain hypo-nuclease tablets will usually produce an increase of weight by aiding nutrition and building up the flesh tissues. Scores of patients have reported increases of from 10 to 40 pounds from the use of these tablets. Full directions come with each sealed package.

Mrs. X. asks: "My scalp itches terribly, is feverish and a great amount of oily dandruff is present. What is good for this?"

Answer: First shampoo the hair and then apply plain yellow mineral oil about a week and see directions. This relieves the itching, overcomes the dandruff and makes the hair beautifully glossy and vigorous. Obtain in 4 oz. jars of druggists.

Mabel R. writes: "Both my husband and I suffer all the time from stomach trouble. Nothing we eat seems to digest properly. Neither of us can ever get any enjoyment from our meals and we are drowsy and then again at all times we are sleepless. Please prescribe for us."

Answer: Dyspepsia, indigestion, sluggish liver and constipated bowels with symptoms like yours are best conquered by a good aid and tonic for the functional organs. I advise the new treatment known as "double-four stomach and bowels medicine," as the best for such conditions. Almost immediate relief and permanent benefits follow its use. Sold by druggists in sealed packets with directions complete.

Mrs. "Annie R." writes: "My husband is surely afflicted with some kidney disease. He has been weak and suffering with headache and pains in his back and groin. Pains are like rheumatism. His ankles swell and his feet seem to be tired all the time. Some days he has chills and no appetite. Please prescribe."

Answer: The symptoms indicate deangement of kidneys and should not be neglected. I would advise balsamwort tablets, a compound well suited to such conditions. Obtain in sealed tubes with directions for home use.

"Old Soldier" writes: "I would like to know what to do for rheumatism, as I am so crippled that I cannot walk. Please answer at once."

Answer: Here is the best remedy for rheumatism that is known, r-r-r if taken

Tramp Flags Santa Fe Train and Saves the Lives of Passengers

Fort Worth, Tex., March 13.—Flagging a northbound Santa Fe passenger train ten miles north of Fort Worth, Harry Reedy, a tramp, tonight is credited with having saved the lives of a hundred passengers whose train was apparently the object of train wreckers. Reedy, walking the ties, saw men hastily leave the track ahead of him as he rounded a curve near Hazlett and Bohannon. At the point of their disappearance, Reedy found a rail had been loosened from the ties and bent. A moment later he heard the whistle of the approaching train, which stopped in response to his signals. A posse has left here in search of the wreckers.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS.

The Temple Auxiliary will hold its regular meeting at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon in the basement of the synagogue.
The McLennan county grand jury recessed yesterday noon until Monday. It is probable that no bills will be returned until the jurors are ready to make their final report.
The will of Mary Pustejovsky, filed yesterday in the county court, is written entirely in Bohemian. The deceased lived near West. It is estimated that her estate is worth about $15,000.
Baraca classes of George Baracus and W. W. Woodson in the Austin Avenue Methodist Sunday school are in a campaign to get new members. It is expected that there will be numerous additions to each class today.
Mrs. C. A. Ryden, Miss Esther Anderson and Miss Lillie Bergstrom have been elected delegates from the Scandinavian Methodist society to the Epworth League convention at Georgetown, March 25-28. Carl Larson and C. A. Ryden, district vice presidents, will also attend.
Street Meeting Tonight.
J. C. O'Hair, of San Antonio, will be the principal speaker tonight in the street meetings to be held under the auspices of the religious work committee of the Waco Y. M. C. A. A quartet of singers will accompany the speaker, in automobiles and several parts of the downtown section will be visited.
Mr. O'Hair is a businessman of San Antonio and has had considerable success in similar meetings held in different cities.

Central Texas Dental Society Meets Here

The Central Texas Dental Society held its regular quarterly meeting in the offices of Drs. J. O. Hall and R. H. Stewart in the Amicable building last night. The most important feature of the meeting was a paper by R. B. Bray on "Filling Teeth With Synthetic Porcelain." Dr. Hall opened the discussion which was taken part in by several dentists.

HILLSBORO POSTMASTER.

Captain Fields, Former Editor, Named
Hillsboro, March 13.—Capt. William A. Fields, formerly editor of the Mirror, and original Wilson supporter, formerly member of the legislature and one of the best known men in central Texas, has been given the recess appointment as postmaster of Hillsboro by President Wilson, definite announcement to this effect having been received at noon today through the Associated Press. Captain Fields, who for the last two years has been serving as assistant sergeant at arms of the United States senate, is expected to reach this city this evening over the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad from Washington.

Friends of Captain Fields here are much elated over his victory, the contest for the postmastership having been sharply contested by a number of applicants, among them being Charles A. Graham, whom Congressman Mack Beall recommended for the position.

Captain Fields was one of the first men in Hill county to declare for President Wilson, say his friends, and the support Mr. Wilson vigorously throughout the campaign. While for eight years immediately previous to going to Washington as assistant sergeant at arms of the senate, Captain Fields was editor of the Mirror, he had wide experience as a newspaper man. At one time he was connected with the Galveston News, serving in the Galveston office of that publication, and was for a time Washington correspondent of the Galveston-Dallas News. Throughout his connection with the Mirror he has been Hillsboro correspondent for the Dallas News.

While the contest for the postmastership here was hard fought, the friends of all of the candidates lining up strongly in their support, it is declared by those in touch with the situation that it was utterly devoid of bitterness.

Captain Fields will serve as postmaster until congress reconvenes, at which time he will go through the regular channel for confirmation by the senate. The term is four years.

Cotton Belt Changes.

Texas, Ark., March 13.—Important changes in Cotton Belt officials were announced here today, including: H. D. Man Wanted Here Is Located in Oklahoma

Deputy Sheriff Lee Jenkins went to Oklahoma City last night after T. H. Vinson, who is under arrest there. Sheriff Fleming has been looking for Vinson since January, located him in Oklahoma City and the arrest followed. Vinson is wanted for alleged complicity in land fraud cases. He is under indictment in Duvall county.

Want Knowledge of Sudan Grass.

College Station, March 13.—To satisfy an ever growing demand for information concerning Sudan grass, the experiment station system under the direction of B. Youngblood at the A. & M. College, has issued a bulletin that subject and this bulletin is now ready for distribution. According to figures made public for the first time in this bulletin, Sudan grass is the best grass for hay in the United States.

Yields in feeding value per acre for Bermuda, sorghum and all other hay crops in Texas are practically doubled by Sudan. Timothy, the standard hay crop of the Northern and Central States is doubled in yield of feeding value per acre on the Ohio station. The bulletin gives full information on the history, types, cultivation and harvesting of this grass, which, within a few years after its distribution throughout the nation by the Texas experiment station was grown for the first time at the Chillicothe forage testing station under the direction of A. B. Conner, a graduate of the A. & M. College, and at present agronomist to the experiment station. The bulletin may be had on request from B. Youngblood, College Station.

Man Burned to Death.

Dallas, March 13.—Charles A. Ramsey, aged 34, lost his life, and half a dozen other bystanders had to jump to escape flames which destroyed the boarding house at 2808 Live Oak street at 4 o'clock this morning. A. F. Lovelace, a roommate of Ramsey, is reported to have been killed. He was taken to the home of his cousin.

Ramsey, who was a half brother of Judge W. F. Ramsey, formerly of the court of criminal appeals, was so badly burned that he died before the firemen could reach him. The man's agonizing cries could be heard from a porch on the Live Oak street side, where he had rushed, apparently, when awakened by the flames breaking into his room. It is believed that he became dazed or stupefied by the smoke and was badly burned before he could get out of his room. The body, terribly burned, was taken in charge by Undertaker Loudermilk.

Oratorical Contest.

Kennedy, March 13.—The preliminary oratorical contest of the Kennedy public schools will take place tonight. The following students will take part: Junior boys—Dewey, Granger, Eimer, Harper, Evans, Bain, Fred Martin, Cecil Bain. Revolvers and Cash Taken from Holt's

The sporting goods store of W. A. Holt & Co., 407 Franklin street, was burglarized Friday night, and a number of revolvers, pocket knives, flash lights and other merchandise taken. The cash register was also robbed of $11.45 in cash. Entrance was gained through a back window, two iron bars being pried off. From the looks of the window the bars had first been loosened from the inside. Police think the first part of the work was done in the day time from the inside.

Studying State Banks.

Washington, March 13.—The federal reserve board is bending its energies to the task of formulating a circular to govern the admission of state banks to the federal reserve system.

Many state institutions have taken out charters as national banks and entered the system by this door since the last became effective, but the board is anxious to draw in hundreds of others. Most of the governors of reserve banks have been in conference here for several days and have discussed the state bank problem with the board. It was understood tonight the governors favor regulations that will prove attractive to such banks.

An Old One Revised.

What is greater than the friendship that exists among men?
The young Alameda man had carefully explained that he must go to San Jose, but declared that he would surely be back for 7 o'clock dinner, as usual. He did not return as per schedule. The hours dragged by and his wife became anxious. Finally she telegraphed to six of her husband's friends in San Jose, asking them if the missing man was there.
With the dawn came a farmer's wagon dragging in a broken-down automobile and the husband. Almost at the same moment messenger boys arrived with six telegrams, and all of them read:
"Yes, Walter is passing the night with me."—San Francisco Star.

Chile is irrigating more than 2,300,000 acres of land and has nearly as many more available for irrigation.

Many Conversions at Mart Revival

Rev. J. M. Dawson, pastor of the First Baptist church, returned yesterday from Mart, where he has been assisting Rev. J. W. Mayfield in a revival. Up to Friday night the meeting had resulted in fifty conversions, and twenty-four had joined the church, with the promise of many more to follow, probably today.

This morning Mr. Dawson goes to Italy to preach the dedication sermon for the new Baptist church in that city. It was in the old building of this congregation that he was converted and later licensed to preach, and while he dislikes to be absent from his own pulpit twice in succession, he feels that today's occasion justifies it. He will return and preach tonight in his own church.

There be many who speak without even thinking once; it would go hard with them to have to think twice.—Knoxville Journal and Tribune.

That Tired Feeling

Relieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla, Which Renovates the Blood.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that your system is in a low or run-down condition inviting disease. It is a warning, which it is wise to heed.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. It cleanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. It makes the rich red blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better.

Be sure to get Hood's, because it is the best. There is no other combination of roots, barks and herbs like it—no real substitute for it—no "just-as-good" medicine.

Owing to the weather, the meeting of Hebrew Rest society announced for last Tuesday was not held. This will be on next Tuesday, the usual time and place. It is an important meeting.

THE SUL ROSS MOTHERS TO MEET ON TUESDAY

On Tuesday afternoon, the Parent-Teachers' club of Sul Ross school will be in session. This notice is given in advance in the hopes that mothers, not yet enrolled, may find it convenient to attend the meeting. Any who do not enroll, and yet will be interested to hear Dr. Hodges talk upon pure food and how to get it for Waco, will be welcome. Dr. Hodges is the city food inspector, and he has both advice to give, and things to tell of conditions. In addition to this talk, Mrs. Ella Lovelace will present some music specialties from the pupils, Miss Snow Johnson of Baylor university will sing.

MISS LATHROP'S REPORT IN THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Miss McCauley announces that all the reports from Miss Julia Lathrop as head of the national child welfare bureau at Washington City are available in our library. This is the result of Miss Stearns' suggestion that the women write direct to the bureau for women's reports upon child conditions in our country. It is pleasing to know that our home library is ready in response. Miss McCauley also reports that she has works of both Black and White, however, the library has not the exact works to which Miss Stearns referred, but the effort will be made to secure these at once.

LORADO TAFT WILL COME FOR THE ART LEAGUE

It is now assured that the Art League will patronize a lecture from Lorado Taft, the eminent American sculptor. The Taft studio in Chicago is one of the best known in our country. The bringing of Mr. Taft is the effort of the Art League to this city. The members have guaranteed to tickets to make the heavy guarantee. However, they hope to extend the lecture to the surrounding towns. The date is April 14. In the meantime, if any are interested much can be found in the library concerning Taft and his work.

HENRY DOWNS CHAPTER WITH MRS. J. NEALE

The attendance of members of the Henry Downs chapter with Mrs. Wil-ham Neale on Friday afternoon was unusually large. The program called also, reports were made from the presentation to the East Side school and the annual George Washington sermon. A special note of thanks was sent to Dr. Dawson, who gave the sermon. Mrs. J. W. Evans, recently from Colorado, was accepted as a new member pending the arrival of her papers. Mrs. T. L. McCullough was installed the new chapter regent, following the more formal session. Mrs. Thomas Dockery was installed the new secretary. Mrs. Mary Manton, the retiring regent, received due words of appreciation for her administration. Mrs. J. B. Cooper was assistant hostess.

MISS ALTA BESSONNETTE WILL BE APRIL BRIDE

So well guarded had been the secret of Miss Alta Bessonnette's engagement that it was a real and not a conventional surprise that greeted about thirty friends, many of them from outside of the city, of this young woman Friday afternoon when, as a climax to a merry party in the Bessonnette home the announcement was made that on April 14 she would become the bride of Robert Kenney, now of this city but recently of Washington, D. C.

Assisting the bride-elect in greeting her friends as they arrived were her mother and her sister, Mrs. V. K. Bessonnette. After the greetings, each guest was given a card, on which hand painted rhymes apropos of the occasion appeared, and these were matched to determine partners for the later events on the schedule of entertainment. This done the guests assembled around a spider web, each string of which, held by a guest, led throughout the house and finally to the dining room where cards announcing the engagement had been carefully secluded. Exclamations of surprise gave way to cordial felicitations and congratulations.

The dining room was decorated with flying pink and white Cupids, while the refreshment table, which followed embodied a color scheme of white and green.

MRS. HARVEY RICHEY HAS AFTERNOON GUESTS

In introduction to her aunt, Mrs. S. Heinemann of Chicago, and in an introduction to Mrs. S. L. Downs, Mrs. Harvey Richey was hostess to a company from among her matron friends during Friday afternoon. This was the first day afternoon. The guests were assembled of these more mature friends of the young hostess, since she became a chateau in her new home. Hence, the unstinted admiration for the beauty of the interior was one of the first remarks. It became literally, "Tip-top," for each room received its chambermaid, for each room received its silver birch finish to the company rooms. Mrs. Richey used the silver basket for center of her table. Into this was placed with grace the double orange daisy. The amber candles, the double orange daisy, the maline bows on both sides, and the holders, gave the picture effect. A number of plants were growing and cut, and these, of these, the gold were served for the tea room. Pretty and effective as this was, compliments were not exhausted until Mrs. Richey handed her plate where clever little devices by way of relishes were seen. In selecting her guests, there had been care that those most congenial to the honorees were gathered. Of these there were invited, the Misses Isabel Edmund and Greta Williams with the Mesdames H. C. Lindsey, Eugene Early, J. A. Early, William Talley, F. L. Bush, M. A. Cooper, Rich, Munroe, Maud Cole, John Sleeper, Ira Seely, Chapin Seely, W. V. Seely, Maid to the Waco Duchess in San Antonio. Intimately identified with the social life of Waco, Miss Smith was the granddaughter of a prominent San Antonio family and a Waco representative who will elicit personal pleasure over her participation in the Carnival Coronation.

MISS LUTIE STEARN COMES FOR THE SHAKSPEARE CLUB

Through the courtesy of the Central Christian church, the Shakespeare club had the pleasure of entertaining several hundred women in the attractive new auditorium. The invitations were extended to all women in the city who might be interested in hearing one of the prominent of the Middle West, Miss Lutie Stearn, of Wisconsin, speak on "The American Home." Members of the club also invited those whom they wished especially to hear their speaker. Thus, scarce a vacant seat could be found. Women from Hillsboro, Corsicana, Bryan, Lovelady, and other places were represented within the audience. Since it was through Mrs. W. E. Spell that the Shakespeare club had the opportunity to present Miss Stearn, it was Mrs. Spell whom the club asked to act as master of ceremony. Mrs. J. W. Carroll at the piano, Mrs. Gaylord Berrill responded to the request of the club for two numbers, quite in keeping with the gladness of the incoming spring. Mrs. Carroll, with an exquisite delicacy and grace, gave the melody from Mozart, quite reflective of the season. At the conclusion of the season, Miss Zoe Fitz-Gibbon, as president of the club, presented Miss Stearn with a beautiful florist basket, which showed the club

MRS. H. C. LINDSEY REVIEWS THE ART LEAGUE

Considering that the public in general would be interested, Mrs. H. C. Lindsey has been requested to submit for publication the review of the Waco Art League which she made at one of the recent meetings of the league. Mrs. Lindsey has worked with the league every day of its existence, hence is qualified to give the following interesting history:

"In May, 1909, at the call of Mrs. Edward Rotan, a number of men and women met with Mr. and Mrs. Rotan to form an art association. Great enthusiasm was manifested, and the Waco Art League was the outcome. C. H. Cox, an English cotton buyer and water color artist, then and ideas, assisted with plans and ideas. The constitution and by-laws was drafted by Mrs. Rotan, after the adoption of which the following officers were elected: Mrs. Jean Sherwood of Chicago, honorary president; C. H. Cox, secretary; Mrs. H. H. Shear, active president; Mrs. Allan Sanford, president; Mrs. Henrietta Seely, treasurer, and Mrs. Edwin Dickson, auditor.

MISS NORMA BONNER

Duchess from Waco to San Antonio carnival. Miss Bonner, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Bonner, is identified with the social life of Texas as well as of Virginia. Her residence in this city has been but a few months, yet these have given Miss Bonner such cordial welcome that Waco is proud to have her representative in the aggregation of Texas society in San Antonio.

REVIVAL OF DEBATING.

News dispatches from Madison, Wisconsin, to the effect that the conference on university extension work was giving large consideration to the revival of debating in the colleges and high schools afford encouragement to those who are anxious to see our young men and women get the largest possible training for the duties of life out of their high school and college careers.

Debating not only induces pupils to keep posted on current events and public questions, but it enables them to think quickly and accurately, and to express themselves clearly and easily, an accomplishment not to be despised no matter what one's work in life may be.

At no previous time in history has the average citizen been confronted with so many questions affecting his welfare. Never before has the call to human service been so pronounced, and the man or woman who has had experience in debating and public speaking is infinitely better prepared to answer that call than the one who has not, just as the men and women who are accustomed to study all sides of public questions in debate are prepared to draw correct conclusions as to wise principles of government and other public policies that come up for consideration.

Instilling more interest among the boys and girls and young men and women of the high schools and colleges in debating public speaking, and even essay writing will pave the way for fixing their interest upon serious subjects in life and when they have finished their school courses they will have a taste for something besides auction bridge, dancing and other strictly social indulgences that are so prone to monopolize the attention of many young people today who do not have to contribute anything to their own support or that of their families.

The University of Texas is doing a very efficient work along the line of debating, public speaking and essay writing in the public schools of this state, and large and beneficial results are sure to follow.

Thousands of persons who have been bitter in their criticism of John D. Rockefeller will sympathize with him in the loss of his wife. She helped him get started in a business way, even before they were married, and never ceased in her loyalty and devotion to him even when fortune made her the wife of the richest man in the world. She was loyal to her family and her church and a woman of many virtues, and the aged capitalist will miss her as keenly as if he were the poorest man in the world.

Edward Wisner, late millionaire of Louisiana, did a good thing for the school children of that state when he bequeathed $1000 for the purchase of land in each of the parishes for the proper instruction in agriculture. This, like other applied subjects has to be taught through practice as well as theory, and the state and other public-spirited citizens should meet Mr. Wisner's gift with additional contributions.

While the promise of plenty to drink and a trip out on the gulf is generally believed to have been responsible for Houston's winning the cattlemen's convention next year, we have an idea the cowboys wanted to get a glimpse at some of George Bailey's red-headed widows about whom they have been reading.

New York's exports on Thursday exceeded $10,000,000 in value, the largest day's exports in the history of that city.

Mr. Ferguson's Change of Heart

Mr. Ferguson is due the people of Texas an explanation for his change of heart.

Soon after his election last November he visited the State Orphans Home at Corsicana, and after doing so made the following statement relative to his decision to re-appoint Mr. W. F. Barnett to the superintendency of that institution: "There has been some little question of Mr. Barnett's loyalty, but this will not be allowed to cut any figure in view of the fact that I am satisfied that he is efficient and the right man for the place. The question of efficiency is absolutely controlling."

On the strength of that very creditable expression from the governor-elect the Morning News and numerous other papers over the state commended him for his high stand in the matter and expressed the hope that the educational, eleemosynary and penal institutions of Texas would be left entirely free from political interference during such time as Mr. Ferguson was governor. But Mr. Ferguson refuses to let us continue to entertain that high opinion of his disinterested wishes for the welfare of those institutions and in his efforts to have Superintendent Eddins of the State Juvenile Training School at Gatesville displaced to make room for one of his political supporters he repudiates the lofty sentiments expressed by him immediately after his election.

If it made no matter how Mr. Barnett cast his vote in the gubernatorial primary last July why should the test be applied to Mr. Eddins over at Gatesville?

Everybody except Mr. Ferguson, even two new appointees, admit Mr. Eddins is efficient and a good man for the place at Gatesville; then why should he be supplanted when that was the only requirement necessary for the superintendency of the orphans' home?

If the question of efficiency was absolutely controlling at Corsicana, why should it not be so at Gatesville?

These questions we would like to have Mr. Ferguson answer for the benefit of the people of Texas who by their ballots elevated him to the highest position in this state.

Mr. Ferguson will not deny that Mr. Eddins has made good. None of his lieutenants will charge the present superintendent with playing politics, with lack of ability, with extravagance, with lack of discipline, with lack of business qualities, with a failure to do a man's work every day in the week and to be on the job twenty-four hours in the day. We do not know whether Mr. Eddins voted for Mr. Ferguson or not. That should make no difference. This is a free country and a man is entitled to vote his convictions, what ever they may be. But we do know that Mr. Eddins did not make any noise about whom he voted for; he has not injected politics into his appointments, and he never will. The majority of the employees of the institution are supporters of Mr. Ferguson and these men will tell Mr. Ferguson, if he wants to know, that Mr. Eddins has not played politics, and more than that, that he is the biggest man from the standpoint of educator, business administration, disciplinarian and constructive builder that has ever been connected with the institution.

Why drop a man of this kind, just at the time when he has gotten the institution out of the ruts into which it has been confined by spoils politics and domination from the executive mansion for twenty years, and placed it on the road towards that goal for which it was established by the people of this state, simply to make a berth for a man whom the governor wants to reward for political support?

Why defy the plain will of the people as expressed in a constitutional amendment which seeks to take this institution out of the hands of spoils politics and place it under the control of a non-partisan board which seeks to promote the welfare of the boys committed to the school rather than the political interests of a man who desires to surround himself with a machine?

Why should a governor be permitted to exact from men who accept places on boards of control of educational, eleemosynary or penal institutions a promise that they will subjugate their own judgment and knowledge of affairs in those institutions to his wishes and instead of employing the men best fitted for training the youth of the state and caring for its wards, stultify themselves by naming friends of the governor, not because of their fitness for the position, but merely because the governor wants to give them a job and thus build up a personal organization?

Mr. W. W. Seely of this city could have remained on the board had he agreed to oust Mr. Eddins and put in Mr. Ferguson's favorite, we are informed, but Mr. Seely refused to stand for such political domination, and he was right in refusing the place on those terms.

Why does not Mr. Eddins fit in with Governor Ferguson's so-called "business administration?" He went to the institution at a time when the year's appropriations had been expended, with six months of the year yet to run. He has gotten more work out of the employees and inmates of the institution than any of his predecessors. He has established more new industries for instructing the boys in useful trades and occupations than all of the predecessors combined. He has brought about better discipline, a better system of business management, a greater economy, taken better care of the boys, provided them with better schooling at the same time he required more work of them than any previous superintendent. He has given more humane treatment. He has preserved better order and that without the use of guns by his men than has prevailed there before. If such efficiency will not fit in harmoniously with the governor's program, pray what does he want?

The welfare of the more than 500 boys now in the school is of infinite more importance than that one of Mr. Ferguson's friends should have his name annexed to the state pay roll. The people of Texas have said by their votes that they want this institution and every other in the state removed from the domination of spoils politics. Why shouldn't the people's will be obeyed? The people pay taxes for the support of this and other state institutions and they desire efficient administration of the affairs of those institutions rather than the reversion of their control into the hands of the political spoils-men. If the training school is ever to be what the people of this state desire—a place where the boy who goes astray may have a chance to redeem his error and make a good citizen of himself—why sidetrack it from that mission now in order to give Mr. Ferguson a chance to reward a political supporter?

These are some vital questions for the people of Texas to consider. If the Gatesville institution is to be despoiled in the manner the governor desires, why stop there? Why not turn over the University of Texas, A. and M. College, the College of Industrial Arts, the several normal schools, the various asylums and other eleemosynary institutions? Why adopt constitutional amendments calculated to permit the first new governor to come in after their adoption to override them for his own aggrandizement?

Our plea is not to save Mr. Eddins his job. He is a big man and could get another position. Our plea is to save the school which needs Mr. Eddins and his wise administration infinitely more than he needs the place as superintendent. The Morning News knows whereof it speaks in this matter. This paper was a large factor in bringing about the reform that led to the taking of the superintendency out of the hands of the governor and placing it under the control of a non-political board. Governor Colquitt saw the wisdom of the plan and though Mr. Eddins was not his personal choice for the place, he left the board unhampered to choose the man best fitted for it. In this respect he set a wise example for his successor.

Mr. Ferguson should reconsider. He should leave the directors of all state institutions free to direct the internal policies of those institutions as they see best and select the best men to direct them, regardless of politics, creed or sect.

It takes a big man to recognize his error and then correct it, but here's your chance, Mr. Ferguson. Your friends will think much more of you, in the long run, for so doing, and such a course will disarm your enemies of the strongest weapons you have so far placed in their hands.

Representative Claude Kitchin of North Carolina, who succeeds Oscar Underwood as majority leader in the lower house of congress, since Mr. Underwood's elevation to the senate, has had long and careful training for the position and ought to make good.

Now that the scalp bounty bill, appropriating $100,000, has been signed by the governor, the unemployed of the state might find some remuneration in slaying wolves, wildcats and jack rabbits at $2, $1 and 5 cents per head, respectively.

From the position some of the senators at Austin have been assuming on other questions, we were surprised that they concurred in Senator Johnson's bill to close pool halls at 9:30 p. m. The measure is a very useful one and we hope the house will act favorably upon it.

The excellent progress that has been made on the improved road system in McLennan county in spite of the continued bad weather is an instance of the wisdom of employing a competent road superintendent to direct the work.

Brewers Willing to Spend Million Dollars Educating the Americans to Drink Beer

Adolphus Busch Willing to Give This and His Annual Profits for Years to Gain That End—Bought to Defeat Various Measures in Congress by Being Liberal With Senators and Representatives—Texas Brewing Company Commanded to Come Across with the Coin.

An indication of the use of money for the alleged education of the people on merit of beer is indicated in the following installment from the petition in the suit of the attorney general against the Texas Brewing company:

1. The letter quoted in the next paragraph (1) was written and transmitted to defendant, through its president, Zane Cetti, by Adolphus Busch, who was one of the originators of said association, and a member with such purposes and work, and the statements therein made were accepted as correct and acted upon by the defendant. The communication quoted in the next paragraph (2) was written and transmitted to defendant, through its secretary, Hugh F. Fox, secretary of said association, who acted as an officer of such association, as he was authorized to do in the writing and transmission thereof. Said communications are now in the files of the defendant. Such communications read as follows, to-wit:

$1,000,000 to Educate People on Beer.
Adolphus Busch
St. Louis, Mo.
Paris, Oct. 19, 1905.

My Dear Cetti:
Mr. Claus wrote me that you have refused to pay your assessment to the Educational Bureau, which has, so far, been created by me and some of my friends for the benefit of the brewing business of the United States.

Most of our people have no idea of the true merits of beer—they know nothing of its wholesomeness and its superior nutritious properties. I rather believe all the false things said about this article. No voice has ever been raised to correct this wrong impression. People have got about beer. It is my aim to win the American people over to our side, to make them all lovers of beer and teach them to have respect for the brewing industry and the brewer. This work has to be done systematically, and the best way of doing it is to have us lend their assistance. We have cost us a million of dollars, and even more, but what of it, if thereby we elevate our position? I stand ready to office my annual profits for years to come if I can gain my point and make people look upon beer in the right light.

We must pay over to the United States Brewers' association whatever it may require to represent us properly before congress, where we have most important bills to defend. We must defeat that Hepburn-Dolliver bill, which is most dangerous and antagonistic to our industry and which makes prohibition possible. Then we want to defeat any bill which may be brought up to increase the revenue tax on beer, with which we are now threatened; we want to re-establish the military canteen at all army posts and on our men of war; and in all respects to treaties we want our government to see that American revenue enters foreign countries with a moderate duty, and not one which is prohibitive, as is the case in most of the republics in South America and in Australia, and as will be the case in all countries where brewers are established unless we take an active interest in the matter and prevent this. We want further to see that no prohibition is enforced in the District of Columbia or embodied in the constitution of Oklahoma when the latter is admitted to statehood.

Be Liberal With Senators and Representatives.

All this will cost lots of money. We do not want to spend one cent bribing the good people, but we will have to be liberal with the press of many states and with friends to gain the ear of senators or members of congress and enlist their good will. Up to now everything has been neglected or no brewer in the United States has done its duty toward its business, and for this reason we have met with defeat in nearly every instance. The lawmakers of our country feel this, and therefore I say reformatively: we must act. We must all put our shoulder to the wheel; we must do our duty toward ourselves and our business, and I demand of you that you enter the rank and file and help us to win our cause. If small and rapid fellows who happen to be in the same line of business with us stay out, it cuts no figure; but every sensible brewer must join the movement, and assist us in our efforts to put the brewing business in the United States in the first rank.

It is of importance that you remit at once to Mr. Claus and thus prevent our colleagues from expressing surprise that one of the breweries in which Adolphus Busch is interested has refused to pay its assessment. Everything that is done by the bureau will benefit Texas in some way, if not directly, then indirectly.

With kind regards, I am,
Very truly yours,
ADOLPHUS BUSCH.
Mr. Zane Cetti, Fort Worth, Texas.

Texas Assessed Selves 20c Per Barrel.
Lone Star Brewing Co.,
San Antonio, Texas.

Gentlemen:
I have your letter in regard to the matter of assessment, and have received similar letters from the San Antonio Brewing association, American Brewing company, Texas Brewing company and the Galveston Brewing company. I am directed to say that we fully appreciate the excellent work which has been done by the Texas brewers in fighting their battles in congress and have no doubt that the action which you have taken has been of material interest to the cause in other states. It has been reported to us that the Texas brewers have assessed themselves from 10 to 20 cents per barrel for their own fight. Compared to this, the one cent per barrel, which comprises the assessment of the association, is very small, and yet I think that it has resulted in considerable benefit to you. The defeat of the seventy-nine (79) bills of congress during the past session is, in a great measure, due to our efforts; and the recent victories in Georgia, Tennessee and Florida should be credited in part, at least, to the work of this association. This work must be continued on a larger scale than ever, and we ourselves are facing this crisis with an absolutely empty treasury. The larger part of our dues for the current year have already been expended; and demands for organization, education, literature, etc., etc., are incessant. Our bylaws provide that the trustees shall not appropriate any money for local or state interests, without being authorized to do so by a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting at a convention. It is a matter of regret that none of your members were present at the Milwaukee convention, when you might have presented your request, and at the same time would have informed of its further development. The bylaws provide that whenever any local association has rendered direct and valuable services in the interest of the association, the association, at its regular convention, may upon application, indemnify such local association for expenses incurred to a certain extent. I find in going over our books that the seven Texas brewers have a very good record. None of them are in arrears for dues or assessments for 1905, 1906 or 1907, but there are four who have not yet paid their dues for 1908. Under these circumstances, and in view of your own heroic efforts on your own behalf, you have certainly earned the right to special consideration, and the president directs me to say that the matter will be considered at the next meeting of our board of trustees, which, however, will not be held until next October. In the meantime, I venture to suggest that you pursue the prudent course for you to pursue in order to pay the present assessment now without a question, instead of attempting to make conditions before payment. Yours very respectfully,

Hugh F. Fox, Sec.

Texas Funds Used in Other States.
2. Pursuant to such general purposes, and as indicated in the letter last quoted above, said association—and its members, including defendant—through such association, used large sums of money out of the aforesaid fund in campaigns preceding and connected with the holding of state-wide elections wherein were involved the question of the prohibition of the manufacture or sale, or relation thereof, of intoxicating liquors in the states of Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Tennessee; also in the state of Maine, during the year of 1911, as evidenced, in part, by the following letter written on or about Sept. 27, 1911, and transmitted to one Martin M. McNeill, Washington, D. C., by one John McNeill, also in the state of Maine, and who was acting as a fully authorized officer of said association, to-wit:

United States Brewers' Association,
109 and 111 East Fifteenth St.,
St. Louis, Mo.
Dear Sir:
I am just in receipt of your favor of the 5th inst., and note carefully contents. Have just wired you and now beg to confirm as follows: Glad at last get away from Austin, and Texas should rejoice. Kindly copy of this letter, be postponed to next day after Sunday, 18, when I return from Fredericksburg, where I go to get relief from mild attack hay fever and on personal and important business. Particulars by mail.
Your views are absolutely correct and meeting should be held by all means. Touching suggestion relative to the advisability of inviting others and those you mention, beg to state that it might be well to invite Mr. Schober of this city, but do not do so now. If we decide later to do so it can be done before date set for the meeting, and I would like to confer with others before extending him an invitation.

In regard to our money affairs, beg to state that I had a letter not long ago from Mr. McDermott in which he stated that it would be forthcoming shortly, and now beg to hand you copy of my reply, the same being self-explanatory. Do not think I will be any question about their sending us the money ultimately. So that, considering an arrangement which I have made with the bank here and the amount which you have advanced, think can await its coming and add the necessity of making another loan which I for one would not like to pay. I have got various suggestions to make with reference to the unclean saloon business, especially as far as additional legislation is concerned, and will submit same at next meeting. As a good many, including myself, object to leaving on Saturday, Sunday and even on Monday, suggest set date for middle of the week, say Wednesday, the 21st inst. If you should have anything important to communicate to me, suggest be wired.

I had letter from Mr. Gardner the other day in which he confirmed a telegram to the effect that we might expect something very soon. Mr. Koehler will land in New York from Europe today and I might ask him if he cares for another conference with these gentlemen with a view of getting some definite knowledge about these figures.

Received a letter from Mr. Koehler this morning in which he states that he saw Mr. McDermott, vice president, and the latter informed him that his final obligations to the Texas people would be paid before the expiration of this year.
Returning to correspondence which we have had with reference to our financial affairs, beg to state that the firm of Adams and Lobit carry the sum of $10,000, the amount which we expect to receive from Messrs. Gardner and McDermott, and I suggest now that we borrow additional $15,000 either from your firm or the First National bank of this city, and in this way get rid of all the obligations, thus affording relief for all concerned, for I am sure from the statements which I have received as well as the information imparted by Mr. Koehler that the money will be forthcoming before the first of the year.

(a) During the year of 1911 the legislature of Texas submitted to a vote of the people of Texas, for adoption or rejection, a proposed amendment to the constitution of the state prohibiting the sale, etc., of intoxicating liquors, such vote to be taken at an election to be held, and which was held, throughout the state on July 22, 1911.

3. The submission of such amendment having been made a platform demand by the democratic party at the democratic primary election held on July 25, 1910, and at the democratic state convention following such election in August, 1910, and it being known that practically all of the members of the legislature that would meet in January, 1911, were elected as democrats and that, therefore, such amendment would in all probability be submitted, the defendant and the other Texas members of the United States Brewers' association, and the members of the Texas Brewers' association—through the Texas Brewers' association and otherwise—began and during the latter part of the year of 1910 carried on an active and expensive campaign looking to the defeat of such amendment when it should have submitted and voted on. And after the submission thereof, as aforesaid, they carried on an active and expensive campaign to defeat its adoption at said election, and also with respect to various local option elections in the state—as has been above—and jointly and severally—through the Texas Brewers' association for financial and other aid in such campaigns and for such purposes. (To be Continued.)

ment. I advise that you mail check immediately.
Yours truly,
B. ADOUE.
Galveston, 7-20-'08.

J. E. W. Fort Worth.
Your letter 18th inst. received, with $1,000 check. Comes in good time, as my finances have long ago reached the "red color." Fortunately, the 10 assessment has produced about $1,000, and the U. S. B. A. has sent me $1000. Without that assistance where would the treasurer be? All reports indicate defeat of submission next Saturday.
Yours truly,
B. ADOUE.

2. During the year of 1910 the same question mentioned in the last preceding paragraph was in like manner submitted to the democratic voters of Texas and like campaigns were carried on by said parties. Likewise there were local option elections held in various portions of the state, and likewise the voters of the democratic party nominated its candidates for various public offices, and said associations participated in such elections, and the campaigns produced, as is shown, in part, by the following correspondence:
Telegram.
June 16, 1910.

Mr. Hugh Fox,
109-111 East 15th St.,
New York.

Will you please communicate with Mr. Gardner and McDermott, request them to meet Mr. Otto Koehler, member Texas Brewers' association, Auditor Ann, Chicago, Tuesday, next? Important. Answer today, care Menger hotel today, and tomorrow Houston.
Sept. 10, 1910.

Mr. B. Adoue, Galveston.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS

A DEPARTMENT DEVOTED TO THE FOSTERING OF MUSICAL INTERESTS OF WACO AND CENTRAL TEXAS.

By ZUMA WALLACE, Independent Phone 1607

Kreisler to Play the Devil's Trill.

A well executed trill is one of the most charming embellishments of violin playing. Given a good violin with a clear singing tone, and the violin trill calls to mind the warbling of birds as the liquid tones of the flute. As Tartini's "Devil's Trill" is one of the numbers which Fritz Kreisler will play in Waco, a few words about the composition and the composer might prove of interest.

Tartini, who was born in 1692, figured prominently in three important branches of music; composition, teaching and violin playing. As a composer Tartini stands far ahead of his predecessors, both in his form, and in the beauty and mobility of his ideas. His works are classic of which the best known is the "Trillo del Diavolo," or Devil's Sonata, which he claims to have been the result of a dream. He was a master of the violin and the finger positions that he worked out and the system of bowing which he adopted are in use today. The following is the story of this famous composition as related by Tartini himself to his pupil, La Lande:

"One night, in 1713," he says, "I dreamed that I had a compact with the devil, who promised to be at my services on all occasions. Everything succeeded according to my mind; my wishes were anticipated and desires always surpassed by the assistance of my new servant. At last I thought I would offer my violin to the devil, in order to discover what kind of musician he was; when, to my great astonishment I heard him play a solo, so singularly beautiful and with such superior taste and precision, that it surpassed all the music I had ever heard as conceived in the whole course of my life. I was so overcome with surprise and delight that I lost my power of breathing, and the violence of this sensation awoke me.

"Instantly I seized my violin in the hopes of remembering some portion of what I had just heard, but in vain. The work which I wrote at the time, is doubtless the best of my compositions, and I still call it the 'Sonata del Diavolo,' but it stands so much inferior to what I have broken my instrument and abandoned music altogether, had I possessed any other means of subsistence."

Prof. Hoffman's Pupils' Recital.

The program was given March 4 at Carroll chapel by the advanced pupils of Prof. Hoffman's class. Each pupil did creditable work. The three who are graduates this year are Miss Hazel Parnell, Corrie Ivey and Louise Lawson.

Quick Removal of Wrinkles Is Now Assured

Some Other Beauty Secrets

Valeska Curatt, America's Self-Made Beauty-Actress, Gives Startling Secrets for the Attainment of Quick Beauty.

THE removal of wrinkles is no longer a problem. Of course there are many prepared creams which are sold for the purpose, but the experience of most women with these feeble agencies has usually been one of keen disappointment. The loss of precious time in such cases is particularly deplorable. What every woman wants and can now obtain is the quick removal of wrinkles, not a process requiring almost a year if at all, but one which will show wonderful results in a few weeks' time. The following formula is one which does this in a very amazing way. You make this up yourself at home in a very few moments by dissolving two table-spoonsful of glycerine and two ounces of opal in half a pint of hot water. The salicy cream which results removes wrinkles almost magically. This secret is one of the most valuable I know. Large and small wrinkles, crow's feet, lines of age and sagging of flesh, all disappear quickly and completely transform one's appearance from age to youth.

ERNESTINE M.—The prevalence of falling hair is alarming among all classes of women. Dandruff is one of the main causes of it. Another cause is lack of nourishment of the hair-roots. The ordinary hair tonic bought at the drug store merely stimulates for the time being. These cannot stop dandruff or make hair grow. What is needed is to supply the necessary nutriment so that the tissues of the scalp and hair roots may return to their original condition of vigor and health. For this purpose nothing is so remarkably effective as a mixture of one ounce of beta-quinol, half a pint of alcohol and half a pint of water, or a full pint of bay rum instead of water and alcohol (if preferred). This costs less than any prepared hair tonic and its results forcing hair to grow, stopping dandruff and the falling of hair are very remarkable and rapid.

MRS. S. O. R.—Simply use this cream every day on your face, arms, hands, neck and shoulders, and in a very short time you will find the most decided change in your complexion. It never fails. All red spots, freckles and blemishes vanish, producing a most exquisite purity

Euterpean Study Urogram.

The first of a series of four Wagner programs was given February 27 at the Philo club rooms with Mrs. T. O. Glover director. In these four study programs the club presents a miscellaneous program by the student members, first, and then the opera talks, Wagner records. The two piano numbers on this occasion were a Chopin nocturne and Grieg's "Butterfly," played by Miss Marjorie Kendrick, and "The March of the Dwarfs," by Grieg, played by Miss Daisy King. Miss Kendrick is a talented student of both piano and voice and her playing showed that she has had careful training. She will also give some of the numbers on one of the programs. Miss King is also one of the capable student members and played the Grieg nocturne in a creditable manner. Mrs. Glover has secured records of selections from the operas, "Rienzi," "The Flying Dutchman," "Tannhauser" and "Lohengrin," and the stories of these operas were told by Misses Leta Pharr and Nellie Lee Hill.

Miss Eschol Taylor's Recital.

Music lovers who attended Miss Eschol Taylor's piano recital last Tuesday afternoon were delighted with her rendition of the varied program which she presented. Prof. Hoffmann has reason to feel very proud of Miss Taylor's attainments, for though she is very talented and has recently studied with Wendling of the Royal conservatory at Leipzig, it was Prof. Hoffmann who gave her the thorough foundation which is so necessary in music. In the difficult "Cardas" by MacDowell, the great "Sharp Minor Study" and the famous "Ballade in A Flat" by Chopin, she proved most satisfactory, both technically and artistically.

Another well rendered number was the "Gigue in B Flat," by Bach, and by no means the least attractive of the program were the "Toccata and 'Study," composed by Prof. Hoffmann. These two pieces proved so delightful that the audience demanded that they be played the second time. In fact, an unusual number of encores were given throughout the program.

and tint to the skin. It is the beautifier without a peer, and is very economical. Mix one table-spoonful of glycerine in a pint of hot water and add one ounce of zintone, which can be secured at any drugstore. This is done in a few moments. You will find it most effective to make your complexion fascinating.

HESTER C. S.—Developing the best is a difficult matter and cannot always be assured. However, a mixture of two ounces of rutone and half a cup of sugar in a pint of cold water, and taken in two table-spoonfuls after each meal and before retiring is the best and surest means known for the purpose. Do not use pills, or mechanical appliances.

MISS T. R.—A teaspoonful of eggol in half a cup of hot water makes an amazingly fine and effective head wash and dandruff remover. The action of this shampoo is to dissolve every particle of dandruff and fatty accumulation, which soap does not do because of the alkali it contains. This is the only head wash that acts on this principle. It makes the scalp extraordinarily clean, and the hair silky and easy to do up. This is very economical as enough eggol can be secured for a very modest price at any drug store to furnish a dozen washings of these unusual shampoos. It is in fact a real necessity to hair health.

MISS F. O. N.—I agree with you. Nearly all face powders are too chalky, and make the face "powdery." I use none but my own face powder, which has been absolutely no chalkiness. It is superb in its fineness, smoothness and scent, and is undetectable. It can be obtained at drug stores as Valeska Curatt Face Powder."

MARY JANE E.—The removal of superfluous hairs is accomplished more easily, quickly and thoroughly by the use of simple sulfo solution than by any other means. This simply dissolves away the hair instead of burning it off as do other depilatories. It never leaves a mark, never falls and never harms the most delicate skin. Any druggist can supply you with the simple sulfo solution, or if he hasn't it, get the sulfo powder. It's the same thing except that you just wet it with a little water before applying it.

ARABELLA M.—No. Face steaming will not remove blackheads. You can get rid of them completely in a few minutes by simply rubbing them with some powdered norexin, sprinkled on a sponge made wet with hot water. Any drug store can supply you with the norexin. Every blackhead will disappear by using this remarkable formula.

MISS T. H. N.—I am sorry you were disappointed in not getting the zintone from your druggist. My secretary will get it for you and send it on if you simply address "Secretary, Valeska Curatt, Thompson Bldg., Chicago," and enclose the price, which is 50 cents.

MRS. R. O. B.—Excessive and unnatural arm-pit perspiration from which so many women suffer at all seasons is at once relieved by the simple use of a drolized tale, which can be obtained at any pharmacy. It also destroys all perspiration odors instantly, and leaves the body odorless. It will prevent that terrible soapy condition under the arms. It saves your garments and relieves you of much embarrassment.

Remarkable Showing Made by Haynes Car

"According to the results of the test just completed at the Worcester Polytechnic Institute, the Haynes Light Six actually delivers 41.25 horsepower at the rear wheels," states W. M. Oden, distributor in this territory for the Haynes, American car. "Such power at the rear wheels is remarkable. A stock car was used and operated under the same conditions as encountered in actual road driving. An unusual record was made. The test brought out is the fact that there is no drop in the horsepower delivered until a car speed of sixty miles per hour is attained. This power that is delivered to the point where actually is used in propelling the car is 136 per cent of the S. A. E. rating of 29.4 horsepower. The motor is 3 1/2 x 5 inches with the six cylinders cast en bloc."

The fact that such a great amount of power may be obtained at the rear wheels, with a motor of this size, is still more significant when it is considered that the motor has not yet 600 miles before the test was made. "Losses between the motor and rear wheels are approximately 3 per cent in the universal joints and 4 to 7 per cent in the drive shafts. The test lost less than 1 per cent. This loss amounts to about 15 per cent, depending upon the make of tire and its inflation."

The efficiency of an automobile is the ratio of the power delivered at the rear wheels to the power actually developed by the motor. Considerable power is always lost in transmitting the power from the engine to the point of use. If the motor developed 100 horsepower and but 50 horsepower was available at the rear wheels, the efficiency would be but 50 per cent. Automobile effectiveness is determined by the weight, and the power delivered at the rear wheels."

High School Display of Pictures Success

The art exhibit which was held at the high school Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons proved a great success and exceeded all expectations. The people of Waco turned out in large numbers to view this excellent collection of prints from the world's masterpieces in painting.

The members of the high school faculty, under whose charge the exhibit was given, wish to express their appreciation and thanks to those who came to the exhibit. To the Waco Morning News and the Waco Times-Herald we are deeply indebted for their generosity in publishing from day to day accounts of the exhibit. The business men of the city helped us in reviving the display properly hereby receive our thanks for their aid. The ladies who made talks on the different pictures we wish to thank especially for helping to make the exhibit mean so much to all those who took part in the programs we are grateful for lending us their talents to entertain the visitors. For graciously serving refreshments to the visitors, the young ladies of the high school have won our gratitude.

Finally, we wish to extend a vote of thanks to all who helped us to make the exhibit such a great success. We feel that the exhibit has been instrumental in reviving an interest in art and we rejoice that we have secured the means with which to purchase some of these splendid pictures of our high school building.

MAJESTIC.

"The Cry Baby."
For comedy of the sort that is lasting and philosophy that is "sticking," there is perhaps no play ahead of "The Cry Baby" in repertoire, and which opens at the Majestic theatre tomorrow night, presented by the Adelaide Irving company. In "The Cry Baby" there is something emphatically different, so different that it makes a play that once seen, never forgotten, and oftentimes seen again.

Special plans have been made to present the story, with special made-in-Waco scenery, a new musical program and handsome costumes. Members of the company look upon "The Cry Baby" as one of their pets, and declare it always proves a pet to the audiences.

The play is highly humorous, sparkling wit and snappy dialogue, quick, rapid action in every line practically, and only fails enough to allow the folk to laugh, something they can't avoid.

Miss Irving in the role of beautiful daughter of the learned judge of the village, is at her height as an actress. Her support is excellent, too, making altogether a company of players that is seldom equalled in one cast.

In addition to the unusually interesting story, the Bridges will present their specialties, something entirely new. The opening performance of "The Cry Baby" will be given tomorrow night. The cast is as follows:

Babe Lyman White
Doc Al Bridge
Joe Worth Hugh Barnett
Judge Worth Jack Connolly
Ray Stueveant Mr. Bright
Obidia Clause Vivian Varney
Jose John Beach
Nig Mr. Varney
Nat Mr. Connolly

"If some of these financiers keep telling on one another they'll all end with the character that Cal Clay gave the deacon."

The speaker was Gifford Pinchot. He resumed:

"Cal Clay was a witness in behalf of the deacon, who was up for chicken stealing."

"Calhoun, my man, the lawyer said, 'what do you know of the deacon's character?'"

"Hit am unbleachable, sah," Cal replied.—Washington Star.

THE GOLDEN WEST?

SUPERIOR FEATURES OF THE NEWS' SPECIAL TOUR

Every essential arrangement for your pleasure, education, comfort and safety has been previously planned. Before leaving home, you will know exactly what is necessary to make this trip. You will be traveling upon a leisure schedule which affords ample time, with no haste. You will be in the company of friends and carefully selected companions for the entire journey. Ample provision is made for the safety of baggage.

We will not use tourist cars. Our trains will be solid Pullman and Parlor cars, first class equipment throughout and porter service, combining all the luxury of modern travel. Reservations are limited in number to add to comfort and prevent crowding. Our three daily meals will be served from the Fred Harvey Houses going, and diners returning. The hotel fare at the Inside Inn is first class. Each tour will be under the supervision of special Santa Fe Tours Co. representative, who explains all features of interest and attends to your personal comfort. The entire tour combines the maximum of scenic interest with the minimum of distance, crossing the great Mojave desert over oil-sprinkled, dustless roadbed.

Your stay in San Francisco will be at the Inside Inn, a first class hotel within the exposition grounds, fireproof, commodious and of a high standard, in a beautiful location overlooking San Francisco Bay. This is the only hotel within the exposition grounds. Each member of our party will be given a FREE PASS granting full liberty to the exposition during your stay.

Our tour will have something of interest for every minute of your waking hours that will appeal to you with ten thousand wonders, including the great Staked Plains, the heart of the Majestic Rockies, America's greatest pine forest, the Mojave desert, beautiful San Joaquin Valley, Golden Gate, the World's Great Exposition, Golden Gate Park, Cliff House and Seal Rock, Los Angeles, Pasadena and the wonderful Busch Gardens, Sacramento Valley, Mt. Shasta, Sacramento City, Feather River Canyon, Sierra Mountains, Salt Lake, Salt Lake City, Mormon Tabernacle, Lake Utah, Mt. Nebo, Castle Gate, Glenwood Springs, Grand River Canyon, Eagle Canyon, Tennessee Pass, Mt. Massive, Leadville, Grand Canyon of the Arkansas and Royal Gorge, Hanging Bridge, Pueblo and Colorado Springs.

Rules Governing the FREE TRIPS

1. All candidates who enter are not working for ONE TRIP TO THE EXPOSITION, but each one is working for his own individual trip. Everyone who enters has an equal chance for one of these trips; all that is required of him is that he secure the necessary number of votes by securing paid-in-advance subscriptions. When you enter you work solely to your own benefit.

2. The campaign opens Wednesday, March 17, and is open to all.

3. If for any reason a candidate winning a trip cannot go, he or she may transfer same to a member of the family or a friend.

4. Candidates cannot transfer their votes to another candidate.

5. Each candidate must be nominated on regular nomination blank.

6. These trips are being conducted under the auspices of the Santa Fe Tours company, 1901 Amicable Bldg., and arrangements have been made to take the winning candidates to the exposition by way of New Mexico and Arizona, returning by way of Utah and Colorado. Under this agreement each winner of a trip will be able to plan his trip at the time that it is most convenient for him to go.

7. Winning candidates must notify The Waco Morning News thirty days in advance of the date on which they wish to make the trip, so that the proper reservation can be provided for them.

8. If any candidate fails to secure sufficient votes to send him on one of these trips, he or she will be paid 10 per cent on all money collected.

9. Those candidates securing as many as fifty new subscribers, for one year each, will be given $25 expense money. This is another feature that every candidate can take advantage of.

10. Candidates are required to send in all collections at least once a week and votes will be issued accordingly.

11. Candidates must exercise care in filling out subscription coupons. Write name and address plainly and state positively whether subscription taken is new or old. This must be done to save time and trouble.

12. Subscriptions must not be taken for less than three months.

13. Each candidate must secure 10,000 votes to win one of these trips.

California and the Wonderful Exposition

A WONDERFUL EXPOSITION in a wonderful land—The Panama-Pacific International Exposition in California. The imagination thrills and sparkles at such a conjunction of sight-seeing opportunities. A trip to California in itself has proved and always will prove most fascinating; the great exposition in itself will prove a most liberal education, but the opportunity of enjoying both has attracted interest and attention throughout the world.

Whatever our love for our own state, it may be granted that the most of us wish to see California and test its claims for beauty, diversity, climate and opportunities. The thousands who have sought California's sunlit valleys, snow-capped mountains, golden beaches and enjoyed its wonderful climate have spread the story and now a trip to this western state is the one desire held in common by every man, woman and child of the North American continent.

The commercial metropolis of the Pacific coast is San Francisco, and the grandeur of San Francisco Bay and harbor is prominent among California's attractions. It is particularly fitting that an exposition which celebrates an event of such significance to the Pacific area should be located at San Francisco. The site of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is described as wonderfully well chosen, for natural beauty, accessibility and suitability for the purpose.

Imagine an amphitheater some two miles long and about one-half mile wide, backed by low hills and fronting for its entire length on the blue waters of the famous bay. Across a mile or more of smiling blue water rise the picturesque Marin hills, topped by cloud-capped Mount Tamalpais. Beyond, to the west, is the famous Golden Gate. Beyond that, the broad Pacific.

On this site the greatest architects of America, with unlimited funds, assisted by the most prominent artists, sculptors and landscape gardeners of the world are building an Exposition City which will live in the memory of those who see it as long as memory itself exists.

The products of every climate, the triumphs of every industry and the best in every handicraft will be placed in selective and competitive display to be viewed by the peoples of all nations. In its amusement district some three hundred of the country's most famous purveyors of fun will prepare their latest novelties for your recreation.

Over the Rockies and Sierras to the Golden Gate

A double treat awaits the party elected from this vicinity who will journey across the American continent as guests of this newspaper to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. Not only will they find in San Francisco the greatest universal exposition of all time, but they will enjoy on the way what is undoubtedly the most beautiful and interesting trip on the American continent.

Seated in luxurious Pullmans and enjoying all of the comforts that the most fastidious could desire, our party will view the rugged crags and snow-capped peaks, the wondrous plateaux, the still lakes and foaming rivers, the savage canyons and illimitable vistas of two great mountain ranges.

Scenery Enjoyed by Our Party

These two ranges of Western America have remained through the centuries practically untouched by the hand of man. Though the mountain passes and slopes are traversed today by great railroads, they retain a savage grandeur which impresses even the most hardened "globe-trotter."

There remain few places in the world which, while easily accessible, still exist as they were created. Our party will see many of the most beautiful of these. The ardent lovers of Nature in her unconquered glory will come into their own in a trip across the Rockies and Sierras on the way to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

Besides the merely scenic beauties of the trip, there are also the historical and romantic associations which attach to almost every mile of the way. Many of the most famous incidents in the history of the growth of America are connected with the names of the mountains, canyons, rivers and railroad stations that you pass. Read Bret Harte and Mark Twain's "Roughing It" before you start.

We Will Follow Trail of Argonauts

On such a journey, our party will follow the trail of the Argonauts, who blazed a way to California and the Golden Gate nearly three-quarters of a century ago. These sturdy pioneers traveled as they could, enduring hardships beyond description. But our party will travel in luxuriously appointed trains with every convenience and comfort of a first-class hotel, and while the scenes of the hardships and difficulties are still to be viewed from the car windows, they are now only to be marveled at, not suffered.

After first riding through the rugged passes of the Rockies, across plateaux and sinister deserts, our party will reach the marvelous Sierras of California, studded with exquisite mountain meadows and mirror-like lakes.

Once upon the lofty heights of the Sierras, our party will enjoy their first glimpse of the Golden West, unsurpassed in any country in the world. A succession of scenes of varied beauty then unfolds itself. As each vista gives way to another, more wonderful and superb, the delight of our party will be climaxed at last by a glimpse of San Francisco, the city by the Golden Gate, which is to play host to the peoples of the world during the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

All of these splendors await the trans-continental travelers. They are not confined to one avenue of entrance into the Golden West. Several general overland routes, by the north, the south or the east, permit the tourists a choice of itinerary over the mountains to the city by the Golden Gate.

Points of Interest to Our Party

Each route is possessed of distinctive features and beauties that will enchant the exposition visitors. Should the travelers enter California from the north they pass through Oregon, the land of roses, proceeding south to the region of the beautiful Klamath Lakes and Mount Shasta, snow-capped and wonderful.

Then, there is the southern approach, taking the visitors across Arizona, that state of distinctive attractions and wonders. There the Grand Canyon fills the travelers with awe and holds them spellbound while they behold this wondrous masterpiece of Nature.

But should the travelers choose to reach the city by the Golden Gate directly from the east, through either of the great gateways through the Sierras, they will find their journey equally entrancing and inspiring. Every mile of the way has romantic, historical or scenic interest. The ride over the Sierras fills the travelers with wonder and admiration and the charm of the sunlit Sacramento Valley and the beauties of San Francisco Bay are heightened by their contrast with the Sierra snows.

Our Party Will Traverse Two Routes

The party elected to take this trip as our guests will go to San Francisco over one route and return by another. This will afford them the opportunity of viewing the ever-changing scenery of these wonderful mountain ranges and enjoying in variety the splendor of Nature's greatest triumphs.

You cannot afford to miss this, your opportunity of viewing the world's most beautiful scenery and attending the world's most wonderful exposition. Make every minute count between now and the close of this campaign.

TODAY'S GAME.

Today's game between the New York Giants and the Navigators will start at 3 o'clock. The Giants will pitch for the Navigators, while the famous "Toll" Ferritt and Flanagan will pitch for New York. On Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 the Skippers will play Baylor for the college game and all other college games this season, the price of general admission to the grounds and grand stand will be 25 cents.

McGraw's colts busted the pill as it was served up by Navigator recruit pitchers, and the result of the affair at Katy Park yesterday was a 12-to-1 win by the scamping young Giants. "Rags" Faircloth essayed to hold down the fence, but his efforts for the time being remained were good. In the four rounds he worked, the visitors did damage amounting to but one runster coming in the first. Zinn, who followed Faircloth, and Kallio followed Faircloth, and were hammered hard. Manager Hardy had Fitcher, Cooney groomed and primed to take up the battle where Faircloth left off, but he received word that his baby had died and left for home Friday night. He probably will not return. Kallio and Zinn worked five hard innings each Friday afternoon. Schupp made his appearance for the third time in as many years against the Navigators, and showed more zip than the Nays have faced since last September. The left-hander's serves sizzled and snapp, and he pretty nearly put them yesterday where he wanted them. His fast ball leaves no doubt as to its identity.

Stroud, from the Pacific coast, whom McGraw worked rather strenuously Friday afternoon at Marlin, took Schupp's place.

Walters' "Some Pegger." From the viewpoint of a Waco fan, the feature of yesterday's game was the pegging of catcher Walters. The young man came all the way from Saskatchewan, and brought his arm along with him. The first New York pitcher whom the little fellows sized up in the bud was none the less person than the world's greatest athlete—although short of his wraiths of laurels—James Thorpe. James attempted to ten-and-four-fifths it from first to second in the first inning, but found the ball waiting until he gave way to Reilly.

Kores, third sacker for the visitors, ran amuck with the bat and cracked the ball safely four out of five chances for a total of seven bases.

Jesse James for Waco sprinted around in the right garden, doing several little things well and sometimes a bit spectacularly. At bat he got one hit through his own unaided efforts to left field, and another by taking advantage of Brainard's acrobatic proclivities. Brainard, formerly with Beaumont, and the marks of a big league ball player, but his habit of getting his feet mixed up. However, he started training only Tuesday and yesterday's gymnastics were performed in an effort to get in front of a freak thing sent him by James.

Walters' Score. The Skippers scored, to the delectation of local rooters, in the seventh. Grubb smacked one to center field for two bags and went to third on a passed ball which Grubb heaved to the left field, and the Texas leaguer. Brainard dropped one to center field, Thorpe drove to second the receiving for New York at the time. Yardley singled through second, Grubb hit for the second time, and second, and Hickey went out, pitcher to first.

New York took the first bat and Piez fled out to Crichtlow. Grant hit to right field, Conwell and James each taking it for granted that the other would flag second base.

Brainard drove one to Conwell, forcing Brainard, but Conwell, in an attempt to double Thorpe, pegged on the error. Thorpe attempted to steal second and was easily picked for Catcher Walters.

Hickey, the first man up for Waco, got on through a fumble by Pitcher Schupp, and forced him at second. Conwell walked, and James hit cleanly to left. Crichtlow breezed and Grubb went out on a grounder to Grant.

Robertson for the Giants in the second inning, Kores starting in on his day's doling with a single in the shape of a line drive to right. He was ambitious to do what Thorpe could not and went the same route, Walters to Conwell.

Things went along without much excitement until the sixth. In the fifth, however, Fitcher Zinn got a clean single to center, but was forced by Hickey. In New York's sixth Piez led off with a walk and a fusillade against Zinn which followed, happened about so: Grant sent one to Conwell, who threw to Beeson at second, but the shortstop dropped the ball. Brainard hit, and Thorpe's sacrifice fly scored Piez. Robertson hit, scoring Grant and with Thorpe pulled off a double steal for a run. Kores tripled and Hickey doubled. Marshall fanned and Stroud singled, Piez forced Stroud. The result of the inning was six runs.

In the seventh, a double by Thorpe, a walk to Robertson, a double by Kores, and a double by Marshall resulted in four runs. Brainard hit, and Brainard on through a walk, Thorpe sent one too far over Crichtlow's head for him to get under and the Indian made a dash for home. He tried to come home with Kallio's arm, however, and was caught a block.

The same teams will play today at 3 o'clock. Manager Hardy will send Fitcher, the left-hander, against the New Yorkers for the first few innings, to be followed by Crichtlow.

Davidson Cup to Be Given for Largest Opening Attendance

President W. R. Davidson of the Texas league has announced that instead of giving a cup to the team which drew the largest attendance during the entire season at home, he will give the cup for town showing the largest opening-day attendance. This change has been made, according to Mr. Davidson, as being fairer to the smaller cities in the league.

Quimet and Travers Placed Together

New York, March 13.—Francis Quimet, the national amateur golf champion, and Jerome D. Travers, a four-time winner of the United States Golf association, were placed together on scratch, heading the handicap rating list this year, which has just been issued by the executive committee of the United States Golf association. A year ago this list contained 227 names of golfers rated at five strokes or better, making them eligible for national championship competition, but the rapid advancement made by players throughout the country and the quality of their game has swelled this year's number to 271. Charles (Chick) Evans Jr. of Chicago, the western amateur champion, retains his standing of last year at one stroke, while two former national title winners, F. M. Byers and W. C. Fownes Jr., both of Pittsburg, have been advanced to the two stroke division, where they have an equal rating with Walter J. Travis, the veteran player and former international title holder, and Warren K. Wood of Flossmoor, Ill. John G. Anderson of Braeburn Country club, Massachusetts, runner up in the 1913 national tournament, has dropped from a rating of three strokes to three, while F. Allis third of Milwaukee and Harvard's last year intercollegiate champion, and J. B. Schlottman of Detroit, the best amateur player in this section, have been advanced from four strokes to the three-stroke division, in which there are three players graded.

Fifty players appear under the heading of four strokes, and the other eligibles, 202 in all, are rated at five strokes each.

BIGGEST BUNCH ON RECORD

New Faces Probable in New York
Line-Up for Coming National League Season.

Marlin, March 13.—With the departure today for Dallas and Waco of the two teams picked from the New York Giants' training squad, the camp is almost deserted. However, Christy Mathewson, Catcher Meyer, Rube Marquard and a few other celebrities remained over for a few days to meet the Texas leaguers than ever before.

Manager McGraw sent teams composed of fewer regulars to meet the Texas leaguers than ever before. In spite of the bad weather, the New York players have been put through some kind of work every day. The Little Napoleon seems to realize that the Giants need some new faces in its lineup, and as a result he has scored some big hits for every youngster that gives any promise at all of developing into a major leaguer. There were over fifty men in uniform Friday, the last practice before the Waco and Dallas trips.

Just what changes there will be, and what new men will be used is doubtful, but it is certain there will be very few of the recruits carried on the sound in organized baseball today, and trimming already has commenced. Among the pitchers who are showing up well are Stroud, Glass and Palmero. The latter, from Cuba, was heralded last year as a great pitcher from Havana, and as a great pitcher from Havana, and as a great pitcher from Havana.

But he was not quite up to McGraw's expectations of a big leaguer. There is a strong likelihood that he will land a berth this year.

The camp this year is a veritable pepper box. The bunch was started off with all the snap of a hundred-year-old and has maintained the speed throughout. Another park has been put in shape for the recruits to work out in and will be used next week.

The regular training grounds are almost perfect. The infield vies with many diamonds in the big leagues, and, having been sown with grass seed, is covered with a green velvet-like place these early spring days.

Ground Keepers Busy. Ground keepers are busy every moment the athletes are not practicing, raking, rolling and trimming the grass, and pouring the water on the infield.

A wagon drives up with a load of bats, balls, shoes, gloves and other paraphernalia necessary to the staging of the daily rehearsal for the big show. When the squad arrives—the youngsters first—each man's shoes and gloves tied together, are spread out ready to be doctored. The men come from the hotel in uniforms. After slipping on their spiked shoes, every man from the big down to the Little Napoleon, takes his "constitutional," consisting of a brisk run around the field.

To one side is stacked a pile of medicine balls, from eight to sixteen pounds in weight. A soccer ball is in the pile, and this is seized upon by the huskies, who kick it about with all the pleasure one would expect from a bunch of 12-year-olds. The medicine balls are tossed around, and the time the practice begins until the signal is given to quit.

Excellent tennis courts are on the grounds, and the doctors of the team are not game indulging. Everybody does something all the time. Bunting games spring up all over the field. Dozens of the players are in the line, and the preparation for the entertainment of hundreds of thousands of baseball enthusiasts, who are yet winter-bound in the north.

These spring training days are precious. Every minute counts, and counts every moment. And then the crafty leaders are ever looking forward.

1915 season. The youngsters who are not yet ready for the majors will mean something to start with against next training season.

McGraw's Action. While the big bunch is warming up, seemingly without system, each man doing as he pleases, a stockily-built little man in uniform steps out. There is something different in his whole appearance, and one knows immediately that he is not a player. As he glances about the field, there is a certain gravity in the part of every man. One knows by instinct that here is the controlling brain of the whole army. He has the name of a big man, but he is a small man.

Eighteen men step out from the scattered groups. They are a bunch of men, but the men who are not playing never let up. The crack of hickory against horsehide never ceases at any time. A glance at a finger by the Little Napoleon may summon any one of them to take a crack at the bat.

The place of some man in the game, the youngsters must have those critical eyes of the Little Napoleon.

That is a real pitcher working now, boys," a veteran remarks to the press bench impersonally. The scribes lean forward. The man is a drafted man, a veteran, a man who has been in the game for a long time.

A batter who has faced the best pitchers in the world "breezes." There is a chorus of approval from the press benches. The Little Napoleon himself is standing near home plate. He misses not a move of the eighteen men.

A veteran is killed easily at third. He couldn't have gotten there under any circumstances, but McGraw is not satisfied.

J. Doak Roberts and John McGraw Plan a Genuine Love Feast

Houston, March 12.—The brightest bit of baseball news for Houston fans breaks for Sunday release in the local papers with the net results of the trip to Marlin. J. Doak Roberts, the Sage of Corsicana, Houston's official emissary spent Thursday in Marlin in conversation with John McGraw, the fighting leader of the Houston team, and upon his return to Houston was ready to announce that McGraw had decided to forgive and forget his past unpleasantness and to invade the Buffalo City once more with his marionettes.

"Live and let live," say we, and likewise sayeth J. Doak Roberts, says he, not to mention J. McGraw. So when the McGrawites leave into our midst on April 2 and 3, Friday and Saturday, there is likely to be a big love feast. Indeed, we have a picture of John and our Pat talking together again the war, with "Is Irish forever, and never 'Sinn Fein'."

April 2 falls on a Friday, an open date for New York, but April 3, a Cape Cod day, a renewed energy and New York is carded in Beaumont on that date. This emergency will be met by giving the Beaumont regulars on April 2 and 3, while on the Saturday mixed in between mixed clubs will play in both towns, but with Mr. Mathewson hurling for the Houston division.

The Giants have always been very popular here, and with a love feast and hands around and drink her down, the Houston hopes to pack the park.

The Burfs now have all regulars present except Fletcher Allen, and sled is getting an even break, as Howard Baker, who is trying for his job, has been laid off with a sore hand. Wray, there is sure to be a big love feast, and the other catching job is either the veteran's or Baker's.

Houston opened the week by dividing Saturday and Sunday games with the Browns. Great pitching by Glenn turned the tide of victory Buffard Saturday, while wretched fielding lost the Sunday game—played in bitter cold.

The week was a miserable one for practice, featured by rain and cold, and it was not until Thursday that either St. Louis or Houston got a good workout. But both clubs saw warm weather Friday and it looks as if the cold's back is broken at last. The kind of weather ending up the week tickled both Newnam and Rickey.

Week-end exhibition games will see Buff and Browns battling again at West End, while one division goes to Galveston. When this appears, the Saturday fortunes will already have been decided.

During the lay-off the two ball clubs have been extensively entertained by local theatres, in conjunction with the Post, which have supplied box parties to the Browns twice and once for the Texas leaguers.

NEW YORK BEATS DALLAS. Dallas, March 13.—In a baseball game lasting two hours and twenty-five minutes the New York Nationals first team today defeated the local Texas leaguers 6 to 1. The same teams play again tomorrow.

TIGERS DEFEAT PELICANS. New Orleans, March 13.—The Detroit American league team defeated the New Orleans Southern Association team here today 6 to 1.

St. Louis Cardinals Beat the Indians

San Antonio, March 13.—The St. Louis Cardinals beat on Twirler Morton of the Cleveland Indians in the fifth inning of their exhibition contest here this afternoon for three hits, which, plus errors by O'Neill and Chapman, netted the St. Louis team three runs and insured them of a 3-to-1 score.

The Indian made their one tally on a walk, an error by Snyder and a fielder's choice in the fifth inning. The Indians were let down with one hit, made by Rogers, second baseman.

Long, a Three-I recruit of Miller Huggins, was the batting hero of the matinee, getting two singles and a three-bagger in four trips to the plate. It was the first major league exhibition game in many years, and the attendance was good, considering the chilly atmosphere. The same teams play Sunday afternoon.

Cleveland 000 010 000—1 1 2

Planning for the Firemen's Meeting

Committees will start to work this week soliciting funds with which to entertain the Volunteer Firemen's association, which will meet here May 11, 12, 13 and 14. The committees will be from the local fire department, Eugene Trott, second assistant chief of the Waco department, is chairman of the general committee of the convention.

Delegates from all parts of the state will attend the convention during the four days' sessions. The convention has met here before, and the firemen are always anxious to come to Waco. Waco is the largest city in the state having a volunteer department and is, therefore, better fitted to take care of the big convention. A feature of the four days that always attracts attention is the races of teams from different places. Prizes are always offered the winners.

Linen, coated with casein to strengthen it and make it smooth, has proved available for aeroplane wings.

The rain which falls upon the United States every year equals in amount the water in ten Mississippi rivers.

CAN'T PRAISE CARDUI ENOUGH

This Lady Was Very Nervous, On Account of Serious Womanly Trouble. But Now She Praises Cardui.

Murphycross, Ala.—The following is from Mrs. W. J. Daugherty, this place: "I will write a full statement of my condition before I had taken Cardui. I was very weak. I had not any nerve at all and could not stand any noise, and had female complaints. 'At last my doctor told me to try Cardui and I did so, and I can say it sure has cured me sound and well, and am glad to tell anyone what it did for me, and it will help any suffering woman."

"I can't praise Cardui enough. I wish every woman would believe what I say and give Cardui a trial and they will find my word to be true."

"Cardui is all I take in the way of medicine. We always keep it in the house for my benefit."

"When I was told to try Cardui I did not think I would, but my friends kept on at me until I got one bottle, and it did me so much good that I kept on taking it."

"My back has got well, my nerve is all right and my old tired feeling has gone, and I am stout and strong as a woman can be. I am glad to say it was Cardui that I can praise for my health."

ITALY'S EXPANSION MUST BE OBTAINED

ROME NEWSPAPER STATEMENT IN SEMI-OFFICIAL WAY DISCUSSES CRISIS.

CAUSE FOR NEUTRALITY

Nation Plays "Hands Off" Game Until Her Interests Are at Stake.

Rome, via, Paris, March 14.—Territorial expansion for Italy with new dominions "beyond the seas, especially on the Mediterranean" must be obtained, declares the Giornale Di Italia in a long article regarded here as of a semi-official nature, in which the present crisis is discussed. Italy's seven months' neutrality, the paper says, were not lost for not only have her interests been defended but the nation has acquired greater political and military force.

"Since the beginning of the war," the Giornale D'Italia says, "Italy has declared her neutrality only until her own interests are in question, thus intending to exclude any renunciation of her rights and proclaiming for her the amplest liberty of action."

"Neutrality has been maintained despite foreign flatteries and the pressure of internal agitation. The forces of the belligerents gradually are wearing out while our energies are augmented."

"All have slowly recognized Italy's right to have the amplest liberty of action against any one. Thus, foreign countries have abandoned the strange idea that they would be able to enlist Italy in the name of sentimentalism like the romantic knight errant, or in the aid of great powers aspiring to the domination of the world."

"There is now beginning the second phase of the war which probably will be decisive. Italy has a frontier problem which is fifty years old. It has pressed her like a yoke as the result of the unfortunate war of 1859, which forced Italy when she took the Venetian provinces to accept a confining which has been a threat. Now that the configuration of Europe, perhaps of a great part of the world, is about to be decided, we must maintain by every means a front which politically and from a military viewpoint is in no sense a menace."

"Her anti-Italian policy in the Italian provinces within her borders was Austria's fatal mistake. It cannot and must not continue. These Italians must be saved from destruction."

"A nation of 37,000,000 inhabitants bordered almost entirely by the sea, a great exporter of men and with agricultural, industrial and commercial interests which are constantly developing, needs expansion beyond the seas, especially on the Mediterranean."

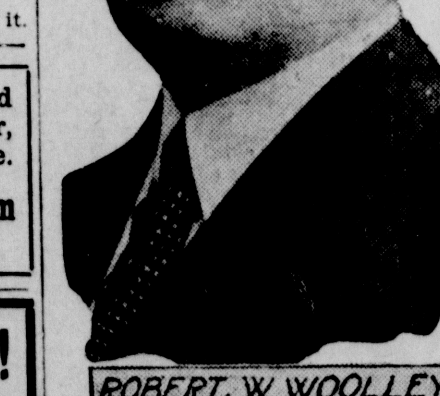

The newspaper says this statement summarizes the great problem which Italy must solve "by sacrificing blood and money if necessary." It declares the nation must be constantly prepared for any eventuality.

Russia and the Dardanelles.

It is going much too fast to assume that the allies are ready to see Russia replace Turkey as the keeper of the Dardanelles. After the defeat of France in 1870 a wit observed that Europe had lost a mistress and found a master. Prussian hegemony has not worked for peace, and neither would Russia domination of the gate to the Black Sea. But in the event of victory Russia would hold so strong a position that it could force such domination, and be content to have the Dardanelles a free waterway. In the past its Black Sea fleet has been locked up; freedom of exit into the Mediterranean would be an immense gain, even without the invidious further privilege of barring the gates to others. There may be something in the suggestion that the French and English are making strenuous efforts at the Dardanelles in order to have a voice in the settling of the question of Constantinople—a question that concerns not only the allies alone, but neutral states, including such important factors as Italy, Greece, Roumania and Bulgaria. If the war should make free highways of the Dardanelles and the Kiel canal, Russia would profit greatly. But in that case Europe might ask pertinent questions about Gibraltar and the Suez canal. Control of the waterways is more and more to be the great international problem.—Springfield Republican.

WELL KNOWN LADY WAS "RUN DOWN"

Her Heart Was Affected and She Was Much Discouraged.

Results are the things that count. The age of theory has been relegated to the past and modern people are more interested in what the thing has done than in what it ought to do. This is why it is unnecessary to take up the public time with long-winded scientific talks explaining the exact action of Plant Juice, the new herbal stomach remedy, on the human system.

Recently the signed statement was received from Mrs. Mary J. Richie, who lives on Killbuck street, Glenfield, a suburb of Pittsburgh, Pa. Mrs. Richie has lived in Glenfield for the past forty years, is very well known and popular. She said:

"I was told that I had stomach trouble, as I had been a great sufferer for some time. I could not sleep and walked the floor until I was tired out. It seemed that I could get no rest. My limbs hurt and my whole body was sore. I was compelled to quit work for the least exertion tired me out. My heart was affected and I was very much discouraged, as the medicines I had been using did me no good. I finally commenced using Plant Juice and have now taken five bottles. I noticed that the very first day I commenced to improve and all the pain has left my body. I can truthfully say that Plant Juice has cured me and that I am very grateful. I am recommending Plant Juice to all of my friends."

Plant Juice is sold in Waco at Dr. W. B. Morrison's Old Corner Drug Store.

Social Service Month

The following statement has been issued by Mrs. W. B. Sharp of the social service committee, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs:

The important legislative aim of the club women has been realized in the passage of the compulsory education bill. This bill passed the house February 19th and was later approved by the senate with the overwhelming majority of 94 to 11. It is the big plank in our child labor campaign for it has been just this absence of an educational requirement that has made the Texas child labor law so ineffectual.

The social service committee of the Federated Women's clubs of Texas wishes to call the attention of the club women to the details of this campaign for compulsory education. It is one of the questions that will be taken up in the October child labor program, and now while our newspapers are still discussing it is the best time to collect material on this subject.

This committee also wishes to remind all the Texas Federated clubs of their promise to set aside the four meetings of October, 1915, for social service study. The subjects for these meetings may be mentioned now in the club year books, as Child Labor, Prison Reform, the Care and Protection of the Feeble-minded, and Rural Life Problems. The program committee will be distributed to the clubs not later than April 1st.

Sears Funeral Held Sunday Afternoon

Austin, Tex., March 14.—The funeral of Rev. Henry M. Sears, chaplain of the Texas senate, who died yesterday, was held this afternoon from the First Methodist church, the services being conducted by Rev. H. M. Knickerbocker, pastor of that church, assisted by the other Methodist ministers of the city. The senate attended the funeral in a body. The pall bearers, who had been selected by the senate before his death, included former Governor Joseph D. Sayers and Associate Justice William E. Hawkins of the supreme court.

APPROPRIATIONS GO WILD OVER BILLION

TREASURY DEFICIT IS PROBABLE ACCORDING TO STATEMENTS OF HOUSE COMMITTEE.

TARIFF NOT RESPONSIBLE

Not So Empty Since Cleveland Administration, Declares Ranking Republican.

Washington, March 14.—Statements issued today by Chairman Fitzgerald of the house appropriations committee and Representative Gillett, the ranking republican member, agree that the appropriations of the recent session of congress totalled $1,115,121,409; that contracts involving additional appropriations of $37,400,000 were authorized and that a treasury deficit is probable.

Chairman Fitzgerald's statement did not give the total of appropriations for the entire Sixty-third congress. Mr. Gillett placed that total at $2,231,000,000, which, he said, was $113,000,000 greater than that of the Sixty-second congress and $177,000,000 more than the last republican congress appropriated.

Mr. Fitzgerald estimated that should the condition of the treasury continue as at present until June 30, the total deficit would be $135,000,000, offset, however, by the income tax collections, which are estimated at about $80,000,000. Mr. Gillett asserted in his statement that the "treasury has not been so empty since the Cleveland administration."

Chairman Fitzgerald declared the tariff was in no way responsible and that until the outbreak of the European war the new law had proved an effective revenue producer. Mr. Gillett did not agree with that.

Mr. Fitzgerald said that effect of the war was worldwide and that as it goes on reduction of customs imports and their revenue will continue to be a length he discussed the need of economy.

"The finances of the federal government must be readjusted," he said. "No more important problem will confront congress when it reassembles."

"Under our system of government the chief hope of the people in the prevention of extravagant and unjustified expenditures is in the house of representatives. The executive department of the government may cooperate, but as the success of an administration is frequently believed to be measured by the expenditures to carry out predetermined policies, the volume of expenditures must necessarily be of secondary importance. The temptation is ever present to modify some clause or to stretch another to attract those indifferent or in opposition and which involves expenditures that add greatly to the burdens of the people. The direct representatives of the people clothed under the constitution with control of the public purse, if properly organized, can and must curtail federal expenditures."

"To make the work of the house of representatives really effective there must be a radical change in the methods of handling appropriations. Real reform is impossible with eight committees of the house framing appropriation bills. Further consideration depends my conviction that one committee should be given control of all appropriations and that no legislation should be contained in the appropriation bills."

Mr. Gillett assailed the democratic leaders for what he characterized as extravagance. "The appropriations of this session have shamefully disregarded the principles of sound business and true economy. With revenues falling and precarious, with business and commercial conditions feverish and uncertain, with a steady monthly deficit and no assured prospect of its relief and with a cash fund reduced to a point that generally has been deemed unsafe, the administration has recommended and the congress has authorized expenditures on a larger scale than ever before and has been taken to meet the prospective deficit. That is not the way the finances of a government should be administered."

"The executive has been more reckless and imprudent than congress, and with less excuse. The prevalent opinion that congress is mainly to blame is incorrect. It is the executive which is primarily at fault. It ought to be easier for the president and cabinet to restrain the president's reckless estimates. "As long as the executive shows no appreciation in advising how to make the two ends meet, congress, with its large membership and diversity of interests, can hardly be expected to assume the enormous responsibility and price the denial. To accomplish wise results there must be a sympathy of purpose and a unity of effort and a recognition of mutual responsibility. That all has been lacking in this congress."

PUPPY OUTGROWS ITS DOG NURSE.

Mike was probably the most down-and-out dog in the world when he was rescued by the surgeon's knives and mended by their needles. His cuts had been stitched together. He was abandoned in the middle of the winter.

A woman found him shivering in the streets, so weak he could hardly stand. She carried him to the home of Miss H. Jacobs and Miss S. H. Jacobs, 2908 Roosevelt avenue, Kansas side. Miss S. H. Jacobs is present at the live show for animals at her home. She now has eight dogs and twenty-eight cats, something less than she usually has on hand.

Mike's story has gone around the world. A brief story of his life has been printed on 15,000 postcards and sent broadcast. Thousands were sent to Europe, and recently a letter came from Italy asking for more.

From a pup Mike has grown to a dog of tremendous size. When he stands on his hind legs and places his paws on the shoulders of Miss Jacobs their heads are level. His coat is a bright yellow, but no one has been able to determine his breed. He's more like a young horse than a dog.

Mike has never forgotten the pain he suffered at the hands of vivisectionists. The sight of a man he will drop to the floor and whine. The sight of a knife or any bright instrument sends him into terror. He loves women and children, but he will never trust a man.

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich.—"I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for women."

"I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles, I don't need any more, and he said 'You had better take a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong."—Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

What He, Made in U. S. A., Gets from European War. Average Bill Smith, made in the United States of America, in the early part of 1914 pulled down $30 a week for about six hours a day general work. With this $30 he had a long interview with a lot out in Easyhurst and a bungalow in Stylish Terrace. Of course, they just had to have a car, and he had a 20 per cent interest in the car. He had a 20 per cent interest in the car. He had a 20 per cent interest in the car. He had a 20 per cent interest in the car.

Of course, an automobile owner can't smoke anything less than 10-cent cigars, and average Bill absolutely requires a good breakfast every morning and that accounts for $5.00 every week. He has a lot of bills in a bank absolutely precludes the possibility of his wife's washing the dishes or doing her own cooking. The cook costs $8 a week, so she depletes the Smith treasury $36 more every 30 days.

War comes. Money is tight. No more easy loans. Unimproved real estate is not eagerly sought for by banks as collateral, and Bill gets a letter from the boss saying "The greasy have ordered a 20 per cent reduction in salaries." Now Bill has got to retrench. Mrs. Bill gets out her kitchen apron and prepares meals that take the tired look from Bill's face and the whole family soon forget what indignation feels like. Little sister "Learns" herself, and no one of the books askance for every one else is in the same boat. Soon Bill finds that street cars run regularly and are most convenient. The saving lust is started. Bill and his three-quarters find that, by letting slide this luxury and that little trifle they can add $10 every month to the savings department balance.

The impossible has happened. Bill Smith, the average American, has found that there's more joy in living with less. His income has not been in surging and this is the greatest gain that our country can have from the war.—American Magazine.

NO PALM GARDENS FOR MR. VANNY

LIMESTONE REPRESENTATIVE SAYS RATE HEARING SHOULD BE AT AUSTIN.

QUESTIONS TO MR. MAYFIELD

Inquirer Asks Why Bill Gray Got in as Counsel and What is Becoming of $25,000 Appropriated by State.

March 11, 1915.

Hon. Earle B. Mayfield, Railroad Commissioner, Dallas, Texas.

Dear Sir: The press of recent date has carried reports of a hearing now being held before the railroad commission of Texas in the palm garden of the Adolphus hotel of Dallas, Texas; also, that besides the two commissioners, there are in attendance upon the hearing, at the expense of the state, three lawyers, two or three attaches of the commission and two stenographers.

Many years ago, the state of Texas set apart for the construction of a capital building for the use of the departments of government, several million acres of land, and this land or its proceeds was used to pay for the present capital building at Austin. In the building separate offices have been set apart for the use of each of the commissioners, which offices are magnificently furnished for comfort and convenience.

In addition to the three office rooms, other large rooms have been set aside in the capital for the use of the railroad commission, its records, clerks, etc. Still another large room has been set aside and equipped for a place in which the commission conducts its public hearings at Austin. All of the reports, etc., required to be made by all of the railroads of the state.

Now in view of the accommodations furnished for the commission's use at Austin, I would like to ask you why it is necessary for these accommodations to be abandoned temporarily, and why it is necessary for the commission, its clerks, lawyers and stenographers to go to Dallas at the state's expense to hold this hearing?

As stated above, it appears that the hearing is being held at the palm garden of the Adolphus hotel, and from this, I assume that the commission, its lawyers, clerks and stenographers are stopping at this hotel. I understand that the accommodations at this hotel are very expensive, and I would like to inquire just what it is costing the state per day as hotel bills to keep this force of men in Dallas. Is it not true that if the hearing were held in Austin, the state would not be called upon to pay one cent for hotel bills or living expenses for the commission or any of its lawyers, clerks or stenographers?

Is it not true that the commission for a long time after the application for an increase in freight rates was filed, thought that two lawyers were all that were needed to conduct the hearing; and is it not a fact that the commission hired Judge Steadman and Judge Cowan shortly after the filing of the application; and is it not further true that Judge Steadman and Judge Cowan have done all of the legal work preparatory to the hearing, and needed no further assistance? If this is true, then why was it deemed necessary to employ, at the state's expense, a third lawyer, the record of William H. Gray of Houston? When was it first deemed necessary to employ additional counsel, and under what circumstances was Mr. Gray's employment made? Who caused Mr. Gray to be employed, and for what reason and under what influence was he employed?

I understand that Judge Steadman and Judge Cowan have each had large experience in rate cases, but I have never heard that Mr. Gray ever had any considerable experience in important litigation in this or any other class. Now as a citizen of Texas, I am, of course, interested in the personnel of those representing the state in this important matter, and, therefore, I would be very glad if you would advise me as to the previous experience of Mr. Gray in this sort of cases.

You were a member of the Texas senate in 1911 at the time of the legislative investigation into election frauds, and it appears from the record that one W. H. Gray was adjudged to be in contempt of the senate for refusing to answer certain questions relating to the use of slush funds to defeat statewide prohibition in 1910.

It also appears from the records here in Austin that Mr. W. H. Gray has been present at this session of the legislature as a lobbyist. Please advise me whether Mr. Gray, the lobbyist, is the same man who was adjudged to be in contempt of the senate for refusing to answer certain questions relating to the use of slush funds to defeat statewide prohibition in 1910.

It is not a fact that the commission has a right to call upon the attorney general for advice or to represent it in the performance of its duties, and has the commission ever called upon the attorney general to represent it in this hearing? If not, why not? And why could not the services of the attorney general have been procured for this purpose without extra cost to the state?

I am sure you will pardon me for asking these numerous questions, and that you will gladly answer each one of them, in view of the fact that I, as well as every other citizen of the state, am directly interested in the matter. Because of this public interest, I am taking the liberty of furnishing the press with a copy of this letter.

Kindly give me reply at your earliest convenience. Yours truly, J. J. VANNY, Representative of Sixtieth District (Limestone County).

JOHN W. RATLIFF AGE 87 YEARS DIES

ONE OF OLDEST CITIZENS OF
WACO, A REMARKABLE MAN, PASSES AWAY.

STORY OF UNUSUAL ADVENTURE

History of Earlier Life Interesting and Later Days One of Encouragement.

John Wesley Ratliff, age 87 years, died early yesterday morning at his home, 2010 Herring avenue. Mr. Ratliff was one of Waco's oldest citizens and one of the most remarkable men that have claimed Waco as their home. Mr. Ratliff's death was not unexpected, although he appeared to be better lately. He arose yesterday morning at his usual time and ate breakfast. He moved about the house until about 10 o'clock, when he went to his room and lay down upon his bed, as had been his custom to do every day. Some time later, when his daughter, Mrs. L. A. Sigler, went to wake him, he was dead. The end was peaceful, without pain, as he had made no movement since he lay down.

The history of his earlier life is an interesting story of adventure, and that of his later life is a story of encouragement to discouraged men of middle age and past. Mr. Ratliff came to Waco from Lee county, Texas, when he was past sixty years old, when the average man's business days are over. He was then penniless, and with borrowed money set bravely about the task of making a living for his family. By industry and unflinching judgment of values, coupled with unflinching faith in the growth of Waco, he amassed a considerable fortune in Waco real estate.

Mr. Ratliff was born at Kosciusko, Miss., and fought with the Mississippi troops during the civil war. He was hunted gold in California, sailing around South America in the days of the sailing ship, when sea travel was a gamble at best. He also spent some time in Panama and the Philippines. He moved to Texas 46 years ago, settling in Lee county, from which place he came to Waco 29 years later. He was well known by all the older citizens, who respected him for his integrity, sound business judgment and astonishing achievements. He was a life-time member of the Methodist church.

Mr. Ratliff is survived by four children: Mrs. L. A. Sigler, who lived with her father; T. Ratliff of this city; Z. S. Ratliff, president of the Ratliff Canning company of Fort Worth, and L. W. Ratliff of Hugo, Okla. He has seven grandchildren, and one great-grandchild, Ellen Elizabeth Benson, 19 months old, who with her mother, Mrs. C. A. Benson, is in Marfa, Texas, and will be unable to attend the funeral. All other members of the family will be present.

The funeral will take place from the residence this afternoon at 3 o'clock, with interment in Oakwood cemetery. Pastor R. F. Brown of the Herring avenue Methodist church, will conduct the ceremony.

Following are the pall bearers: Actice, J. N. Morgan, S. M. Hamilton, M. Burton, J. W. Williams, O. Oliver, Bert Coleman, Honorary: Dr. W. H. Gates, Dr. J. M. Huddleston, Judge W. H. Jenkins, George F. Munterly, Duncan Carrick, W. E. J. Martin, J. C. Fields, Sr.

Attention, Pat Cleburne Camp, No. 222

One of our deceased veterans, J. W. Ratliff, will be buried from his late residence, 2010 Herring avenue, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, followed by interment in Oakwood cemetery, and all members who can do so are invited to attend.

Face Eruptions Have Deep Significance

Often They Indicate Impurities Deep in the Tissues.

The results shown by S. S. S. in clearing the skin reveal how much of the trouble is due to impurities deep in the tissues. Facial eruptions are more often significant of impaired nutrition resulting from faulty elimination of blood wastes than from any other cause. And yet it is a difficult matter to convince such people they should avoid such harmful drugs as mercury, iodine, or potassium, arsenic and so on. S. S. S. gives just as good effect without the destructive results, because it is more searching. It goes deeply into the circulation wherever the blood flows, but it does not remain to clog the system. And its effect is complete and thorough as indicated by blood tests. One of the strange things today is that so many people are wedded to the notion that mercury is the one antidote. It is not so. There is in S. S. S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood poisons.

Wherever you go there are people who know this to be true from their own experience, for it has been clearly shown there is an ingredient in S. S. S. as essential to health if the blood be impure as the nourishing elements of the grains, sugars and salts of our daily food. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggist, but insist upon S. S. S., accept no substitute. And if your case is peculiar or of long standing, write to the Medical Adviser, Dr. J. C. Swift, Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Another Version of Fisher-Lawless Incident.

McGregor, Tex., March 7.

I notice in the columns of The News the story of "Finding of Old Indictments Recalls a Thrilling Story." Your correspondent has gotten his wires crossed in regard to the tragedy. I am a son of the Robert Lyon spoken of in the story, which was the story of a boy of 11 or 12 years at the time. The tragedy was indelibly stamped on my mind. What I am writing is a true story of the occurrence.

On the day of the killing my father and the negro were in the neighborhood from the gin in old East Waco with a four-mule team, the negro riding one of the mules and driving. During the day Lawless and Fisher, in East Waco, and I saw them. They were six-shooters and had several negroes, and shot the town up. They had bought from M. Meyer some negro dolls that day and would throw them up and shoot them. Late in the evening when they left town they met my father and the negro. They demanded the negro to halt. My father, seeing they were drunk, told the negro to drive on. Lawless drew his six-shooter and Fisher ran around ahead of the lead mules and stopped the team. Seeing the negro had on a leather belt, Lawless demanded him to give up his six-shooter. My father told him the negro had no gun and was less than fired, shooting the negro in the head. The report of the pistol and the negro's falling over in between the mules frightened the mules and they ran away. At the time my father had a spring ankle and could not get out of the wagon. Some negroes stopped the team. My father was not thrown out of the wagon at all and was not hurt. In a few minutes after the killing I met Tom Brown, a white man, and he told me what had happened. He pulled me off my horse and mounted him and started after Lawless and Fisher. My horse being faster than any of the posse, he caught up with Lawless and Fisher first and shot Fisher in the back with a load of buckshot. Lawless and Fisher separated and the posse followed Lawless and captured him. That evening Fisher, being badly wounded, stopped at a farm house seven or eight miles north of Waco, where he remained several days. Some one finally reported his whereabouts to the commander of the posse, and he came and they went out and brought him in and lodged him in jail. They were indicted, tried, convicted and the death penalty given. They broke jail by burning a hole through the floor, and ran out of the back wall. The prisoners all escaped except one, whose name I do not remember. The reason he did not get away was because he was a large man and could not get through the hole in the floor.

To show the daredevil spirit of Lawless, he went back into the jail after a pair of shackles that was in there. He said he wanted them to hobble his horse with the present shackles, and he wanted to see how he would get away. He was captured and brought to Waco for identification. They were buried in the First Street cemetery. So ended one of the many tragedies enacted in this county.

Respectfully, BOB LYON.

Man Leaves Work to Vote: Why Not Woman?

To the Waco Morning News:

One of the questions before us today is the necessity of woman suffrage. There are those who treat this matter lightly, attempting to make the impression that to grant the right of suffrage to women is to put them on a par with the brute. Yet, if you ask these anti-suffragists for the reason of said strenuous objection, to show cause, as it were, why the feminine population should not be granted the right of suffrage, you will find that the answer is, "Just because," or some other words which indicate about the same amount of reasoning or thought upon the subject.

When we arrived when we must face this matter fairly, for it will be neither evaded nor treated lightly. Some women are demanding their rights, while others, though modestly declining to join in the movement, are quietly watching and waiting. Of course, there are others who feel no interest in the matter, but there is serious doubt about there being real objection on the part of any woman. There should be no such thing as a woman's suffrage. If woman be generous toward man, man should not be less generous toward woman. If woman chooses to be a woman, she should be content with her lot and not demand a share in the government. If woman is to be a woman, she should be content with her lot and not demand a share in the government. If woman is to be a woman, she should be content with her lot and not demand a share in the government.

One of the questions before us today is the necessity of woman suffrage. There are those who treat this matter lightly, attempting to make the impression that to grant the right of suffrage to women is to put them on a par with the brute. Yet, if you ask these anti-suffragists for the reason of said strenuous objection, to show cause, as it were, why the feminine population should not be granted the right of suffrage, you will find that the answer is, "Just because," or some other words which indicate about the same amount of reasoning or thought upon the subject.

Man Leaves Work to Vote: Why Not Woman?

Man Leaves Work to Vote: Why Not Woman?

To the Waco Morning News:

are giddy and silly and not capable of exercising sound judgment, we answer you that some men are altogether independent of influences by matters wholly unworthy of consideration.

It is not the purpose of this article to contend that there will be better laws enacted, or that the officers of justice elected by reason of woman's being given the ballot, for she is human and should not be expected to be infallible any more than man, but it is here stated that as a citizen woman should not be denied the right to express herself at the polls, and instead of hindering, we should extend to her a cordial invitation to participate in the affairs of both state and nation, and amend the constitution with a view that she may fully come into that which is rightfully her own. Not only this, but man should make it his business and count it a privilege to assist woman where and when necessary to the better understanding of politics; which policy, properly and conscientiously pursued, will make a nearer approach, at least, to "a government of the people, for the people and by the people."

We should put aside forever the thought that woman is not the equal of man. Such thought should be relegated to the past and be regarded only as an unpleasant memory, with a feeling of perfect assurance that it is one good step toward accomplishing the purposes of creation, which within itself is enough to chase all doubts away from the minds of men and redound to the peace, prosperity and happiness of the nation.

Respectfully, WILL BOLGER.

Opposes the Gibson Insurance Bill.

To the Waco Morning News:

The Gibson bill now before the legislature reminds us of the Irishman who had two sweethearts, one a corpulent Irish bridegroom and the other a diminutive American miss. When asked why he admired the latter more, he remarked that when he went to his room at night he was always on the ground and met all the demands of a genuine lover, while the former made loud promises and a big show, but when he called to see her she was never there.

The governor admits that the mere promises of these foreign and native companies, being but mere promises on their part, Joe Bailey once had the promise of the oil companies of the east, but history will bear us out that these promises were never fulfilled. In our opinion the same will be true of the insurance companies seeking to be admitted to this state.

In July, 1907, twenty-one outside companies withdrew from Texas rather than comply with the conditions of the Robertson law. Prior to the enactment of the Robertson law, for example, in 1906, the total life insurance written in this state amounted to $44,000,000. Of this amount $18,300,000 was written by forty-four outside companies. During the year of 1905 only 2 per cent of the total business was written by these companies. During the year 1912, when the Robertson law was in operation, $106,000,000 of life insurance was written in this state, and of this amount $11,000,000 was written by the same forty-four outside companies. Texas companies wrote over 60 per cent of it. We find that on June 30, 1913, Texas companies had assets amounting to $120,000,000, and the Robertson law forced to about $150,000,000. In six years we find that the assets of the Texas companies multiplied more than three times, and the total amount of insurance in force more than 1000 per cent. Today twenty Texas companies have insurance assets of $200,000,000, and still the Robertson law is in operation. $106,000,000 of life insurance was written in this state, and of this amount $11,000,000 was written by the same forty-four outside companies. We recite these statistical facts to show that our state companies have met the demands of the state and are still growing. Our demands and our putting in circulation money taken from Texas citizens, whereas if outside companies were permitted to do business in this state, our money would be hoarded in eastern banks or loaned to promote eastern enterprises. Every dollar paid in premiums to outside companies would be sent out of the state, and the individual dollar so invested becomes a community dollar with home companies fosters and promotes a constant growing spirit of mutual helpfulness. The Robertson law is a protection to the citizen, and it is the best thought of the country on this subject. It protects the policy holder by means of exacting the company's assets, and it is the best thought of the country on this subject. It protects the policy holder by means of exacting the company's assets, and it is the best thought of the country on this subject. It protects the policy holder by means of exacting the company's assets, and it is the best thought of the country on this subject.

SOAP IS BAD FOR THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary unsifted coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two tablespoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing all dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fluffy and silky, bright, lustrous, and easy to manage.

You can get purified coconut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Have You Ever Seen

THE GOLDEN WEST?

SUPERIOR FEATURES OF THE NEWS' SPECIAL TOUR

Every essential arrangement for your pleasure, education, comfort and safety has been previously planned. Before leaving home, you will know exactly what is necessary to make this trip. You will be traveling upon a leisure schedule which affords ample time, with no haste. You will be in the company of friends and carefully selected companions for the entire journey. Ample provision is made for the safety of baggage. We will not use tourist cars. Our trains will be solid Pullman and Parlor cars, first class equipment throughout and porter service, combining all the luxury of modern travel. Reservations are limited in number to add to comfort and prevent crowding. Our three daily meals will be served from the Fred Harvey Houses going, and diners returning. The hotel fare at the Inside Inn is first class. Each tour will be under the supervision of special Santa Fe Tours Co. representative, who explains all features of interest and attends to your personal comfort. The entire tour combines the maximum of scenic interest with the minimum of distance, crossing the great Mojave desert over oil-sprinkled, dustless roadbed.

Your stay in San Francisco will be at the Inside Inn, a first class hotel within the exposition grounds; fireproof, commodious and of a high standard, in a beautiful location overlooking San Francisco Bay. This is the only hotel within the exposition grounds. Each member of our party will be given a FREE PASS granting full liberty to the exposition during your stay.

Our tour will have something of interest for every minute of your waking hours that will appeal to you with ten thousand wonders, including the great Staked Plains, the heart of the Majestic Rockies, America's greatest pine forest, the Mojave desert, beautiful San Joaquin Valley, Golden Gate, the World's Great Exposition, Golden Gate Park, Cliff House and Seal Rock, Los Angeles, Pasadena and the wonderful Busch Gardens, Sacramento Valley, Mt. The first candidate securing the required number of votes to secure one of these trips will be given $50 in gold.

Rules Governing the FREE TRIPS

1. All candidates who enter are not working for ONE TRIP TO THE EXPOSITION, but each one is working for his own individual trip. Everyone who enters has an equal chance for one of these trips; all that is required of him is that he secure the necessary number of votes by securing paid-in-advance subscriptions. When you enter you work solely to your own benefit.
2. The campaign opens Wednesday, March 17, and is open to all.
3. If for any reason a candidate winning a trip cannot go, he or she may transfer same to a member of the family or a friend.
4. Candidates cannot transfer their votes to another candidate.
5. Each candidate must be nominated on regular nomination blank.
6. These trips are being conducted under the auspices of the Santa Fe Tours company, 1901 Amicable Bldg., and arrangements have been made to take the winning candidates to the exposition by way of New Mexico and Arizona, returning by way of Utah and Colorado. Under this agreement each winner of a trip will be able to plan his trip at the time that it is most convenient for him to go.
7. Winning candidates must notify The Waco Morning News thirty days in advance of the date on which they wish to make the trip, so that the proper reservation can be provided for them.
8. If any candidate fails to secure sufficient votes to send him on one of these trips, he or she will be paid 10 per cent on all money collected.
9. Those candidates securing as many as fifty new subscribers, for one year each, will be given $25 expense money. This is another feature that every candidate can take advantage of.
10. Candidates are required to send in all collections at least once a week and votes will be issued accordingly.
11. Candidates must exercise care in filling out subscription coupons. Write name and address plainly and state positively whether subscription taken is new or old. This must be done to save time and trouble.
12. Subscriptions must not be taken for less than three months.
13. Each candidate must secure 10,000 votes to win one of these trips.

WACO PITCHERS IN GIANTS' BIG EFFORTS

McGraw's Selection to Try-Out is Given Genteel Drubbing, However.

NAVIGATORS GOOD SHOWING

Bunch of Local Triflesmen Pull Many Pleasing Features—Score 6 to 0.

Waco heartily endorsed John J. McGraw's selection of try-out pitchers yesterday afternoon by registering its seven blows for a total of six runs while the New York hopefuls were held to two safeties and no runs by Purcell and Markle. McGraw placed on exhibition Pitchers Peritt and Flanagan, the latter a former Texas leaguer.

James Thorpe was the only Giant who brought his batting eye over from the hotel, and he used it to equal advantage on both pitchers, getting a single off Purcell and a two-bagger off Markle.

Several things took place during the contest that were pleasing to Waco fans aside from the victory. It was clearly demonstrated that Waco will have a left-hand pitcher this year, and that pitcher will be Purcell. The tall young pitcher is a finished performer and has a good assortment of stuff, including that most unusual asset of a slow ball. McGraw, who has handled himself as if he has spent several afternoons in pastime from the mound and is perfectly at home there, has more than fair control and uses his head. He has a good fast ball and can bend them also.

In Saturday's game fans suffered themselves as to the new Catcher Walters' pegging ability. In yesterday's affair they had opportunity to observe his behavior on the bases and he was unanimously elected. The little fellow is suffering from a span of chollysomes at this.

Several times New York looked dangerous, with men on third, but steady box work and good fielding nipped their efforts in time to make possible the calm game.

Waco went to bat first. With Peritt pitching for the Giants Hickey grounded to first. Malmquist went out, Brainerd to first and Conwell popped out to Grant. Purcell pitched for the Giants and Hickey grounded to first. Malmquist went out, Brainerd to first and Conwell popped out to Grant. Purcell pitched for the Giants and Hickey grounded to first. Malmquist went out, Brainerd to first and Conwell popped out to Grant.

In the second James and Crichlow grounded out and Grubb fanned. Thorpe for New York grounded to Grubb, Robertson sent one to Purcell, and was thrown out to Wohlehen at first. Stolen base. First on errors. Waco 2. Left on bases, Waco 5. Time of game, 1:57. Umpire, Ray.

In the third Wohlehen fanned. Reilly popped out to Grant at second. Purcell fanned. First baseman Holke for the Giants grounded out to Conwell. Catcher Marshall grounded out to Conwell. Waco started things off well in the fourth. Hickey getting the first base hit of the day. He hit with one, but the ball went to the pitcher's side, sending a grounder just out of reach of Kores at third. A swinging bunt by Malmquist advanced Hickey to second. He was thrown out by the pitcher to first. Conwell advanced Hickey by meeting the ball nicely, but was thrown out by the pitcher to first. New York threatened to get the run back in its part of the fourth. Piez drew a walk and went to second when Purcell hurled one low for Reilly, at which Grant, at bat, started. He hit the ball, but the umpire waved him back to the grandstand, contending that Grant had fouled it, but it went for a passed ball. Thorpe singled to right field. James, who is wearing tennis shoes without cleats on account of an injured toe, slipped on the grass. He held the ball, however, and played it in. Brainerd went to third. Thorpe, second. Reilly throwing to Grubb at third and getting Brainerd in a chase. Reilly held onto the ball a little too long, however, and then threw badly to Grubb, the ball hitting Brainerd and allowing him to go safe. With two on and two out Robertson grounded out to Malmquist. Grubb started the fifth by driving one to Brainerd and that erratic shortstop failed to interfere with its progress to left field. Wohlehen grounded out to left field. Wohlehen grounded out to left field. Wohlehen grounded out to left field.

and Robertson fled out to Hickey, much to the relief of the fans.

In Waco's seventh Crichlow and Grubb fanned. Wohlehen drove one safely to third. Second and second. Markle batting in Reilly's place, fanned, giving Flanagan three strike-outs in an inning. New York also had a short sharp inning, Kores grounding out to Conwell. Hickey flying out to Malmquist and Wendell flying out to Crichlow.

Waco made quite an inning of the eighth. Waited drawing a walk, Hickey laid one down the first-base line and Pitcher Flanagan tossed it over Holke's head. First, both runners going. Malmquist picked this opportunity to time to annex his second hit of the day and rapped a clean one by Grant, scoring Hickey and Malmquist. Hickey, third. Mal going to second on the throw in to the plate from the field. Conwell sent a safety along the first-base line, scoring Hickey and Malmquist and going to third when Catcher Wendell let the ball get away from him on the hop-peg from right field. James went out to the pitcher, Crichlow fouled out to the catcher, Grubb popped to Grant.

Flanagan fanned in New York's half of the eighth. Piez popped out to Conwell and Grant went out to a grounder to Malmquist.

Waco made another in the ninth. Wohlehen, waiting for a walk, and got it. Markle sacrificed, laying one down neatly to the pitcher. Walters hit to right center, sending Wohlehen to third. Fred Crichlow, thinking Thorpe would catch the ball, Hickey drove one back at Flanagan, who threw him out at first. Wohlehen, grounded out to Kores at third, and Waco rested on her six velvet.

New York was helpless in the ninth. Brainerd grounded to Wohlehen, who threw him out to Markle at first. Markle covered the bag nicely. Thorpe took three healthies, coming up at second. Kores and Robertson dropped one into Conwell's hands.

MARKETS

COTTON GOODS MARKET.

New York, March 14.—Primary markets for cotton goods have ruled generally quiet and fairly steady. Merchants are placing confidence in the holding power of cotton values as a factor in maintaining prices during the period that will elapse before active fall trading on staples begins.

The charging of goods on old orders is quite full and requests for anticipations of shipments are not uncommon, showing that stocks are not abundant. The demand for white goods and wash goods is active. Prints are quiet. Staple goods are steady, fancy goods firm. Duck for export continues in demand, but commercial lines are quiet. Wide print cloths are holding steady. Cotton goods are holding steady. Cotton goods are holding steady. Cotton goods are holding steady.
